The concepts and techniques described are the actual ones used by real game studios like Electronic Arts and Naughty Dog. The examples are often grounded in specific technologies, but the discussion extends way beyond any particular engine or API. The references and citations make it a great jumping off point for those who wish to dig deeper into any particular aspect of the game development process. Intended as the text for a college level series in game programming, this book can also be used by amateur software engineers, hobbyists, self-taught game programmers, and existing members of the game

New Games Pamela M. Lee,2013-01-25 Art History After the Sixties examines the 1960s and 1970s as a watershed era in our current understanding of art and its historiography. Pamela Lee asks how, why, and at what cost art critics of that generation shifted their attention away from aesthetics to focus primarily on the social and political nature of art, most notably in the writings appearing in the influential journal October. She also looks closely at the major artists of that era from Robert Smithson, most well known for his provocative earthwork Spiral Jetty, to Andy Warhol. Art History After the Sixties is the fifth volume in Theories of Modernism and Postmodernism in the Visual Arts, James Elkins's series of short books on the theories of modernism written by leading art historians on twentieth-century art and art criticism. The book will feature a critical introduction by a fellow art historian placing the book in conversation with the previous books in the series.--

Coloring Book Daniel Gershkovitz,2021-03-28 Do you know which country surprisingly owns F-14 fighter jets besides the US? Do you know how much it costs to fly US Presidents' Air Force One for one hour? Or what famous operation the Black Hawk helicopter took part in? Did you know that the heaviest plane in the world has 32 wheels? That the B-52 bomber is capable of carrying 31.5 tons of bombs? That the A-10 thunderbolt's cannon is larger than a family car and capable of firing 70 shells every second? And that one of the test pilots in the US Air Force was awarded astronaut wings even though he did not plan to fly into space? From the dawn of humanity, people have dreamed of flying like birds! 1,700 years have gone by since the Chinese first got a man-made object to rise towards the sky, and 516 years since the great scientist Leonardo da Vinci designed flying machines in his imagination.
