Theories of Mathematics Education Bharath Sriraman,Lyn English,2012-03-14 Advances in Mathematics Education is a new and innovative book series published by Springer that builds on the success and the rich history of ZDM—The International Journal on Mathematics Education (formerly known as Zentralblatt für - daktik der Mathematik). One characteristic of ZDM since its inception in 1969 has been the publication of themed issues that aim to bring the state-of-the-art on c- tral sub-domains within mathematics education. The published issues include a rich variety of topics and contributions that continue to be of relevance today. The newly established monograph series aims to integrate, synthesize and extend papers from previously published themed issues of importance today, by orienting these issues towards the future state of the art. The main idea is to move the ?eld forward with a book series that looks to the future by building on the past by carefully choosing viable ideas that can fruitfully mutate and inspire the next generations. Taking ins- ration from Henri Poincaré (1854-1912), who said “To create consists precisely in not making useless combinations and in making those which are useful and which are only a small minority.

Business Regulation and Non-State Actors Ananya Mukherjee Reed,Darryl Reed,Peter Utting,2013-06-17 This volume assesses the achievements and limitations of a new set of non-state or multistakeholder institutions that are concerned with improving the social and environmental record of business, and holding corporations to account. It does so from a perspective that aims to address two limitations that often characterize this field of inquiry. First, fragmentation: articles or books typically focus on one or a handful of cases. Second, the development dimension: what does such regulation imply for developing countries and subaltern groups in terms of well-being, empowerment and sustainability? This volume examines more than 20 initiatives or institutions associated with different regulatory and development approaches, including the business-friendly corporate social responsibility (CSR) agenda, ‘corporate accountability’ and ‘fair trade’ or social economy.

Housing New York 2.0 ,2017 Since Mayor de Blasio launched the Housing New York Plan in 2014, New York City has accelerated the construction and preservation of affordable housing to levels not seen in 30 years. We are on track to secure more affordable housing in the first four years of the Administration than in any comparable period since 1978. The City has tripled the share of affordable housing for households earning less than $25,000. Funding for housing construction and preservation has doubled, as have the number of homes in the City’s affordable housing lotteries each year. Hundreds of once-vacant lots have affordable homes rising on them today. Reforms to zoning and tax programs are not just incentivizing, but mandating affordable apartments—paid for by the private sector— in new development. --Page 4.

School Crime & Violence James A. Rapp,1986 While schools at one time appeared to be immune from criminal liability and courtroom litigation, cases involving virtually every aspect of education have been, or are currently, in court at some level. This monograph is designed to help school lawyers, trial lawyers who represent victims of campus crimes, and educators and administrators engaged in planning risk and liability prevention programs and campus crime prevention programs. Issues discussed include: (1) school crime, the victims' rights movement, and the right to safe schools; (2) victims' rights litigation; (3) classifications of litigation involving victims as victims, victims against perpetrators, and victims against third parties; (4) schools as victims rights litigation defendants and the question of school immunity; (5) claims for failure to protect against or prevent non-student crime or violence; (6) claims for failure to protect against or prevent student crime or violence, including the possibility of negligence; and (7) the various responsibilities of schools, students, parents, and the community to provide safe schools. Primary court citations and state and federal code provisions involving victims' rights and safe schools are indexed. (PPB)

Absolute Power Audrey Chase, Barbara Ann Wright, Claire Jackson, Emily Kay Singer, JD Glass, Jude McLaughlin, Leia Weathington, Mari Kurisato, A. Merc Rustad, Missouri Vaun, Susan Smith, Tristan J. Tarwater, 2016-12-26 So what is evil? What makes a person a "villain?" Is it intent to harm...or is it something deeper than that? Each one of the thirteen authors in this amazing collection has taken a completely different approach to answering this question. They have gone above and beyond expressing the idea of evil and supervillainy. They get to the bottom of why villains are the way they are, and what they hope to gain from it. These are dangerous women wielding Absolute Power... and they'll be glad to let you know exactly why you should fear them.

DND Language Reform Armand Letellier, Canada. Department of National Defence. Directorate of History, 1987 The introduction of official bilingualism has been one of the most contentious reforms ever attempted in the Canadian Armed Forces and this paper examines the steps taken by the Director General of Bilingualism and Biculturalism and his department in the planning and implementation of official bilingualism. Moreover the paper reveals the nature of civil-military relations in Canada from the focus that while military traditions may be well established in Canada, they are not deeply engrained in the national consciousness.
