Cows Vs Aliens Lb Sedlacek,2022-05-15 I like to imagine what's up above. I like to visit the radio telescopes in West Virginia. On the way to the GBT, Great Big Thing, or one of the largest telescopes around, there's a cow pasture. The cows lie right down in front of it and don't seem to be concerned about finding any proof of signs of life in the universe. If we were visited by aliens, the cows probably wouldn't care then, either. Somehow, I bet us humans would. Who would win? The cows or the aliens? These poems try to answer those questions and more! Keep your eyes and ears open and always but always stay alert!

Video Games Around the World Mark J. P. Wolf,2015-05-22 Thirty-nine essays explore the vast diversity of video game history and culture across all the world's continents. Video games have become a global industry, and their history spans dozens of national industries where foreign imports compete with domestic productions, legitimate industry contends with piracy, and national identity faces the global marketplace. This volume describes video game history and culture across every continent, with essays covering areas as disparate and far-flung as Argentina and Thailand, Hungary and Indonesia, Iran and Ireland. Most of the essays are written by natives of the countries they discuss, many of them game designers and founders of game companies, offering distinctively firsthand perspectives. Some of these national histories appear for the first time in English, and some for the first time in any language. Readers will learn, for example, about the rapid growth of mobile games in Africa; how a meat-packing company held the rights to import the Atari VCS 2600 into Mexico; and how the Indonesian MMORPG Nusantara Online reflects that country's cultural history and folklore. Every country or region's unique conditions provide the context that shapes its national industry; for example, the long history of computer science in the United Kingdom and Scandinavia, the problems of piracy in China, the PC Bangs of South Korea, or the Dutch industry's emphasis on serious games. As these essays demonstrate, local innovation and diversification thrive alongside productions and corporations with global aspirations. Africa • Arab World • Argentina • Australia

• Austria • Brazil • Canada • China • Colombia • Czech Republic • Finland • France • Germany • Hong Kong • Hungary • India • Indonesia • Iran • Ireland • Italy • Japan • Mexico • The Netherlands • New Zealand • Peru • Poland • Portugal • Russia • Scandinavia • Singapore • South Korea • Spain • Switzerland • Thailand • Turkey • United Kingdom • United States of America • Uruguay • Venezuela

Stalking the Herd Christopher O'Brien, 2014-02-01 Who or What is Behind the Cattle Mutilations? The cattle mutilation phenomenon is an ongoing mystery that has endured for almost 50 years. What have we learned, if anything, from the countless reports filed? Who or what is behind the death and disfigurement of livestock reported as mutilated around the globe? Are these deaths simply attributable to natural predators and scavengers? Or is the military/government somehow involved; perhaps monitoring "mad cow disease"? Are the deaths the action of ritual "cultists" as police say the evidence would suggest? Is it possible that alien predators are involved, as some researchers and the media have suggested? Are black helicopters or UFOs related to the cattle mutilation phenomenon as many witnesses have claimed? Regardless of who or what is responsible, what are the motivations behind perpetrating what may be the greatest unsolved serial crime spree of all time? Stalking the Herd addresses these questions in depth and also offers an objective look at the history of our venerated relationship with cattle, the first domesticated livestock. Is there a connection between these ritualistic cattle deaths and humankind's ancient practice of animal sacrifice? Why are there no Brahman cattle mutilations in India where cattle are revered to this day? Are aliens gathering genetic material for unknown purposes? What about the thousands of pounds of scientific forensic evidence? Are some hidden sections of the military conducting secret projects that—for some reason known only to them—involve the mutilation of hundreds of cattle in an area that includes Colorado Springs, the NORAD command base inside Cheyenne Mountain and the strange little town called Dulce on a small Apache Reservation?

Crop Circles, Cows, and Crazy Aliens Steve Higgs, 2018-12-10 There are crop circles in the fields near Cliffe Woods and unexplained lights in the sky at night. Does the latest case have aliens at its core? Of course not, because there is no such thing. But, when a farmer hires paranormal investigator Amanda Harper to look into his glowing milk, she doesn't sense how crazy things are about to get, and before she can even start investigating, a frozen body is found and the conspiracy theory nutters arrive to argue about the inner workings of an alien freeze ray. Leading the bunch is none other than Jack Hammer, the handsome, self-proclaimed star of the internet show Alien Quest. He wants Amanda as a co-host to boost his ratings and won't take no for an answer. But Amanda has other distractions, not least of which is her estranged uncle Knobhead arriving unexpectedly to offer his assistance - he was kidnapped by aliens, you know. Amanda is going all out to solve this case, so let's just hope the help she gets from best friend and police officer Patience Woods doesn't slow her down too much. Crop circles, doped cows, spacecraft sightings and a mysterious government agency trained to repel alien invasions all combine to give Amanda Harper her toughest test yet in this funny, cozy mystery. The Harper Files are a spin off from the Blue Moon Investigation Series where Amanda is introduced and recruited by Tempest Michaels. You can read this series without ever reading the other books, but I have to raise a minor spoiler alert if you read these first and then go back to the Blue Moon series. Please be aware that this book contains some mild cussing and occasional sexual references. There are no elements that should be considered worthy of an R rating though.

An Alien Harvest Linda Moulton Howe,1989 Television producer-director-writer Linda Moulton Howe received her Masters Degree from Stanford University with a focus on science, medicine & the environment. When animals, especially cattle & horses, were found throughout the world in the 1970s with the same pattern of bizarre, bloodless excisions of tissue, she investigated the story as an environmental contamination until eyewitness testimonies forced her to confront the possibility that non-human intelligences are interacting with us, our animals & our plant life. The result was her 1980 Emmy Award-winning documentary A STRANGE HARVEST. A decade later, Howe has synthesized her research & contacts with alleged government insiders in AN ALIEN HARVEST. One Air Force intelligence officer told her: That documentary you did upset some people in Washington. They don't want animal mutilations & UFOs connected together in the public's mind. REVIEWS: This book comes as close as any yet toward boring right into the heart of what the UFO mystery has become... By following Linda Howe's odyssey through an American West littered by the carcasses of mutilated livestock, by discovering with her the distinct UFO connection to these mutilations which have not gone away by any means, & by becoming involved with the U.S. government itself to the point of being shown a briefing paper prepared for none less than the President of the U.S., you will learn what UFOlogy is REALLY about now some 42 years after its arrival into our consciousness. The book has the impact of a runaway freight train.--Bob Girard, Arcturus Books. If seeing is believing, then here's what you've been looking for: a large format, 476 page volume with many graphic color pictures.--Martin Burkey, The Huntsville Times. If books could convince, skeptics would be an endangered species after reading AN ALIEN HARVEST.--Dennis Stacy, New Age Journal. 4th printing, May 1995. LMH Productions, P.O.
