Experimental Film and Anthropology Arnd Schneider, Caterina Pasqualino, 2014-06-19

Experimental Film and Anthropology urges a new dialogue between two seemingly separate fields. The book explores the practical and theoretical challenges arising from experimental film for anthropology, and vice versa, through a number of contact zones: trance, emotions and the senses, materiality and time, non-narrative content and montage. Experimental film and cinema are understood in this book as broad, inclusive categories covering many technical formats and historical traditions, to investigate the potential for new common practices. An international range of renowned anthropologists, film scholars and experimental film-makers engage in vibrant discussion and offer important new insights for all students and scholars involved in producing their own films. Research Handbook on the Law of Virtual and Augmented Reality Woodrow Barfield, Marc Jonathan Blitz, 2018-12-28 Virtual and augmented reality raise significant questions for law and policy. When should virtual world activities or augmented reality images count as protected First Amendment 'speech', and when are they instead a nuisance or trespass? When does copying them infringe intellectual property laws? When should a person (or computer) face legal consequences for allegedly harmful virtual acts? The Research Handbook on the Law of Virtual and Augmented Reality addresses these questions and others, drawing upon free speech doctrine, criminal law, issues of data protection and privacy, legal rights for increasingly intelligent avatars, and issues of jurisdiction within virtual and augmented reality worlds.

Synchronicity Tyler Yates, 2020-08-26 So many coincidences. That's such a bad sign. Travis Edison is stuck, his life on hold since his dad's accidental death 12 years ago. Finally, a career prospect arises the very night he meets his perfect match, Meg. What are the odds? But weeks in the Utah mountains above Salt Lake City leave Travis spinning his wheels and Meg doubting his rationality. Travis's intuition is warning him that something from his past is stalking. And it isn't human. Carl Jung is the world-renowned psychiatrist with a pet theory, synchronicity, about meaningful coincidences. He's also been dead for 60 years. Diverting him from the hereafter, Jung's Maker asks him to analyze the meaningful coincidences in Travis's life. They're piling up-but why?As crisis hits home and his world spirals out of control, Travis battles his demons to belatedly uncover life's deeper meaning. But his fate is not his to determine. Carl Jung must make that choice. It's the ultimate decision: prepare Travis for the psychological incursion still to come... or doom him to loneliness and failure.

Psycons & Grace is a science fantasy/urban fantasy series about Jungian psychology, mental illness and a parallel universe seeking to take what is ours.

Art-Care Practices for Restoring the Communal Barbara A. Bickel, R. Michael Fisher, 2022-12-28
This book contributes to a larger global call to radically re-create ourselves—to transform our fear and alienation from art, Nature, and ourselves. With compassion and grace, the co-authors outline how everyone may access the gift of Spontaneous Creation-Making and change dominant narratives of individualism. Discovering interconnectivity through art-care we can dream courageously together into the unknown possibilities of a precarious future. Art-care, as coined by the co-authors, is a matrixial form of communicating through art and reverence. This theoretically informed and practice-based book bridges the individual with the communal in Creation-centred ways that interweave the many parts with the whole. It provides examples of teachings, practices and spontaneous creations of makers that will benefit those who want to integrate art-care into individual practices or group facilitation. This book benefits socially engaged artists, arts-based researchers, artist-philosophers, activists, students, teachers, organizers, therapists, caregivers, and more.

How to Work with Space Karen Messer,

Synchronicity Jessika Satori, 2012-10-02 This book explores the connections between the Jungian concept of time-space relations and how today's business leaders can be aware of synchronistic situations to use them ethically in the workplace. It bridges the Jungian concepts of synchronicity with grounded business applications. It is written in a straightforward accessible style and includes examples from real life business situations. It explores synchronicity and explains how it can be recognized and used in business situations. This book takes the sayings 'timing is everything' and being at the right place at the right time and establishes that synchronistic events do occur in the lives of entrepreneurs and others with surprisingly regularity.

Cosmological and Psychological Time Yuval Dolev, Michael Roubach, 2015-12-16 This book examines the many faces of philosophy of time, including the metaphysical aspects, natural science issues, and the consciousness of time. It brings together the different methodologies of investigating the philosophy of time. It does so to counter the growing fragmentation of the field with regard to discussions, and the existing cleavage between analytic and continental traditions in philosophy. The book's multidirectional approach to the notion of time contributes to a better understanding of time's metaphysical, physical and phenomenological aspects. It helps clarify the presuppositions underpinning the analytic and continental traditions in the philosophy of time and offers ways in which the differences between them can be bridged.

Creating Miracles Carolyn G. Miller,
PhD, 2011-02-08 Miracles Can Happen to You! We normally use the term "miraculous" to describe dramatic, larger-than-life events, but not all miracles are out of this world. Ordinary miracles – surprising positive occurrences, such as surviving a horrible automobile accident or finding our soul mate – can happen in our everyday lives. A scientist as well as a student of metaphysics, Dr. Carolyn Miller has spent more than twenty-five years researching the elements that are common in real-life miracles. She has discovered that ordinary people often survive impending disaster by entering a serene state of consciousness and following inner guidance. In Creating Miracles, Dr. Miller shares specific suggestions and techniques, such as tapping into our intuition and disarming our ego, for cultivating a state of miracle-readiness in our lives. Through the true stories and amazing experiences she relates in this book, she demonstrates that miracles are real and that accessing them requires only that we follow some clear and simple steps.
