303 Gallery 303 Gallery (New York, N.Y.),2019 Chronicling the story of the gallery from its founding in 1984 through its history creating and mirroring developments in the New York and international art worlds, forming a portrait of the gallery as it stands in the present day. Edited by Kurt Brondo, designed by Common Name, and published by 303inPrint under the direction of Fabiola Alondra, the limited edition 448-page book is a culmination of years of research, collation, and unearthing of the gallery's archives in an attempt to construct a complete history. Documentation of early group shows, guest curatorial projects and provocations illustrate the collaborative nature of the program, where now-seminal artists, curators, gallerists, and writers exchanged ideas and roles in New York's fertile '80s heyday. It was a time where it would not be unusual for 303 Gallery's neighbor (American Fine Arts) to share a solo exhibition by an artist under a pseudonym (Richard Prince / John Dogg), or where 303 Gallery would host a group show for a like-minded but entirely separate gallery under both of their names (AC Project Room at 303 Gallery). Texts from artists including Richard Prince, Collier Schorr, Karen Kilimnik, Kim Gordon, Mary Heilmann, Sue Williams, Rodney Graham, Doug Aitken, Nick Mauss and Alicja Kwade, among other important contributions, offer intimate and historically significant accounts of how 303 Gallery began, how it has progressed, and what it has meant to them.

Outdoor Gallery Yoav Litvin,2014 Outdoor Gallery - New York City documents the vibrancy of the diverse contemporary street art environment of New York City. The book predominantly collects the work of New York based artists, running the gamut from old school graffiti writers such as COPE2, to contemporary street artists such as HELLBENT, EKG, ASVP, CERN and GAIA. Their work is showcased alongside that of some international fellow travelers including NICK WALKER, THE YOK, SHERYO and KRAM. The book features hundreds of pieces of art by 46 different artists. The well-photographed works are accompanied by the artists musings on New York, street art and their own work and processes. This work is non-permanent and necessarily current and relevant. In Outdoor Gallery New York resident and author Yoav Litvin successfully documents the zeitgeist.

Pop Up Gallery 90 Larry Graeber,2019-12-30 The book illustrates a pop up gallery instigated by Larry Graeber for the exhibit of 12 artists and himself. Leasing a storefront not far from his neighborhood, he titled the gallery, Gallery 90, after its address. With the assistance of Sarah Browne and Sian Rips, work was hung and exhibited the month of December.

17 Converge Gallery,2016-12-19 The 2017 program for Converge Gallery is filled with excitement, new energy, and even a few surprises. I often think back to the beginning of Converge when we had more space than we could possibly utilize. During this period of time, we would plan our exhibitions only weeks before the displayed work was set to come down. The gallery has moved to a more forward-thinking approach with regards to scheduling, and we have begun booking exhibitions on an annual basis. With this new, focused gallery program and our recently renovated exhibition space, we decided to generate an annual book (with this one serving as the inaugural edition) as a new initiative. This will catalog the different exhibitions that we show each year and provide gallery patrons with information and photos in order to excite you as every event arrives.

Laura Carpenter: The Gallery Years, 1974-1996 Laura Carpenter, 2018-08-28 Laura Carpenter was instrumental in bringing contemporary art to Santa Fe in the mid-1990s. She began her career as a gallerist in Dallas, Texas, showing artists such as Jean-Michel Basquiat and Martin Puryear. Upon her arrival in Santa Fe, she held solo shows for the likes of Kiki Smith, Christo and Jeanne-Claude, Juan Muñoz and Susan Rothenberg, transforming the Santa Fe art world. Ellsworth Kelly, John Chamberlain, Ed Ruscha, Joan Mitchell, Louise Bourgeois and Marina Abramovic all had shows or came to support fellow artists. Carpenter was also a founder of SITE, helping to permanently establish Santa Fe as a premier destination for contemporary art. Through the lens of Carpenter's experience, this book presents a combination of personal anecdotes, interviews and archival material--from Carpenter as well as critics, curators, art dealers, collectors and artists--to create a historical snapshot of this pivotal time in Santa Fe.

Deep Storage Geoffrey Batchen, Hubertus Gassner, 1998 Everybody collects something, sometime. Many artists have discovered collecting and saving as a means of artistic expression and have made the storage of objects and information the subject of their work. This ranges from digital memory to rows and stacks of materials to shelves, packaging crates, installations, and entire areas filled with diverse objects stored systematically or in states of utter chaos.

Studiolo Martha Fleming, Lyne Lapointe, Lesley Johnstone, Art Gallery of Windsor, 1997 The large-scale building projects of artists Martha Fleming & Lyne Lapointe are legendary in certain circles. And yet, because of the independent nature of their production, a comprehensive overview of this seminal work has not yet been published. This book fills that gap. A document, a bookwork, a manifesto, Studiolo explores the extensive and varied creative process of this collaborative pair. It covers not only the site works produced for entire abandoned buildings in Montréal and New York City, but also the discursive underpinnings of their fifteen-year practice. The artists' image research and aesthetic are part and parcel of showing and telling in Studiolo - itself a work of art.
