Web 2.0 Tools in Concept Teaching Zeynep Tatlı, Ali Şükrü Özbay, 2021-11-30

Currently, students are interested in more than one thing at the same time, preferring to use visuals and infographics, rather than writing, in the learning process. In addition, these students use technology better in the education process, as in all aspects of daily life, as they meet technology at an earlier age than their teachers. Therefore, teachers should also update themselves according to these learner characteristics. In particular, “assessment” and “evaluation” are two of the topics that students may not enjoy to their fullest extent. This book serves to make the assessment process fun and interactive, as well as to inform teachers about the different applications they can do in this process. It invites teachers to introduce highly interactive applications and make their classes active in the learning process.

Building Competences for Spatial Planners Anastassios Perdicoulis, 2011-03-22 Spatial planning is a process. The focus of this book is on the sequence of key tasks that constitute the process and on special techniques that are suitable to conduct these tasks. Spatial planners require a number of skills to manage this process in an efficient manner, select the necessary tasks for each specific planning context, as well as the appropriate techniques for each task – always considering the people with whom and for whom they plan. Rather than recommending options, or ‘recipes’, this book stimulates critical thinking and questioning: What do we want to achieve? How can we do that? What options do we have? Which option is the best for our case? This book contains enough planning theory to discuss the function of the planner and the alternative approaches, as well as to provide the background for defining a core set of planning tasks. Building Competences for Spatial Planners is ideal for both planning students and newly qualified planners who are rapidly accumulating knowledge and experience. Perdicoulis uses practice examples, diagrams and thought provoking chapter questions to help planners develop high-level skills such as efficient organization, communication and thinking. His engaging style carries the reader through areas such as team functions, how to define the planning problem, organizing timings and how to use charts and diagrams to help planners and their clients. theory, written for serious students of mathematics and computer science. It reflects the current state of the subject and emphasises connections with other branches of pure mathematics. In addition to a modern treatment of the classical areas of graph theory, the book presents a detailed account of newer topics, including Szemerédi's Regularity Lemma and its use, Shelah's extension of the Hales-Jewett Theorem, the precise nature of the phase transition in a random graph process, the connection between electrical networks and random walks on graphs, and the Tutte polynomial and its cousins in knot theory. Moreover, the book contains over 600 well thought-out exercises: although some are straightforward, most are substantial, and some will stretch even the most able reader.
