Airport Vicinity Air Pollution Model I. T. Wang,L. A. Conley,D. M. Rote,1976 This report describes in detail the computer code of the Airport Vicinity Air Pollution (AVAP) model and the variables required to exercise the model. The AVAP model is a computerizing comprehensive airport simulation model which can serve as a tool in evaluating the total air quality impact of all airport operations on the airport vicinity. The report focusses on the operational procedures and descriptions of the structure and function of the computer code. The structure, chain of command that links the subroutines, and the more important computational subroutines are illustrated in detailed flow diagrams. The basic formulas used in the calculations are presented. One section provides guidelines for preparation of the input data and can serve as a 'mini' instruction manual by itself. Procedures are described by which the airport and environ data can be collected and cast into the proper forms. The data deck formating, variable limits and omissions permitted, and the computer configuration required to run the code are discussed. Samples of input and output are included.
