The Perils & Rewards of International Film Making Bill & Carly Kizorek,2012-06-01 This book is about the perils and rewards of film making in challenging situations. It is based on the real-life wisdom of working on assignment for non-profits in Cuba, Tanzania, Democratic Republic of Congo, Rwanda, Thailand, Cambodia, Burma, Guatemala, Indonesia, Moldova, Romania, Ghana, Republic of Congo, Jordan, Cameroon, and Ethiopia. It is specific enough to be a tool for professional videographers, but, since much of the guidance is culled from the real-life experiences of filming for non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and charities, the book is an indispensable guide for those whose goal is to visually document the work of their organization—especially in a remote and challenging environment.

Project Download Robert Wann,2011-02 Henrik's ambitions were different than anyone else in his field, or as a matter of fact, in the world. He could have simply taken the road to success and had an illustrious career as a neurosurgeon with a model wife, four children and a beautiful home in the suburbs, but he wanted more and was driven by a force that could not be explained. A force to conquer the human brain and communicate with it in ways that would change the world as we know it today. His early experiments had already proven that he could retrieve the memories of the dead, but now he had more ambitious goals. He was on a quest to capture the memories of the living and ultimately provide his subjects with new memories, all without harming them. Memories that he had retrieved from previous subjects. Unfortunately, he could have never predicted the casualties that would occur in the wake of his success.
