The Perfect Watchlist (Of Stocks) Brad Koteswar,2021-01-04 Editorial Reviews: Review: When a chart speaks, you listen should be the title of this presentation. Written as if you were watching a live colorful PowerPoint presentation, with tens and tens of charts all showing the same basic winning pattern, it is hard to believe that it can be so simple, yet so hard! ---A. Greenberg, Master Chartist Of Over 40 Years Thank you so much for making charts speak to me! ---Adam J. With tens of stocks to watch on the watchlist in the book, it would be fascinating to see which ones are going to make the big runs in 2021 and beyond. I must admit, I am not surprised to see so many Biotech stocks! Read this and learn to build your own watchlist of potential winners! ---Larry F. Do you see, or do you observe? Hit the nail on the head! Well worth many-fold the subscription fees I pay for many stock-market services! Actual executable implementable knowledge in this book that can be used for a lifetime - it is priceless. ---J. O'Neill From The Back Cover: Where are the next stocks like Tesla of 2020? Or Mirati Therapeutics of 2017-2020? Are they on your watchlist of stocks? How to learn to get such stocks on your watchlist? How to buy such stocks and hold them for the most fruitful and rewarding periods of time? Once you do find such stocks, do you know when to buy, when to sell, how much to buy? You can lose on a winning stock too. You could sell a winning stock too early or too late. When is the right time to get in and get out? Is it even possible to time the stock or the market? How well do you know yourself? Can you separate your self from your actions in the stock market? Is it easy? Is it hard? Can it be learned? About the Author: Brad Koteswar began trading foreign currencies and Treasury bond futures in the mid-eighties. He started trading stocks in 1987 and within months was wiped out on Black Monday, 1987. Having worked with major firms in the 1980s, which are now defunct, he went on to work for himself in the 1990s. Having tasted the freedom of being on his own, he has never looked back. Now, approaching the end of his fourth decade in the markets, he leads a simple and uncomplicated life and uses the same simple uncomplicated approach to his stock market evaluation and activity. Many years have passed since his last book. But the lessons and the methods have not changed. The subtle art of speculation has not changed. The messages in the charts are clear, if only you can observe.

The Perfect Watchlist - 1 Brad Koteswar,2022-03-07 A few words from the author: Which stocks to buy? When to buy these stocks? When to sell these stocks? What is the current hot sector? Biotech stocks? Tech stocks? Energy stocks? Growth stocks? No stocks? If one were making a killing in the market already, one would not be here reading this. A thousand books on stock trading out there. Quite honestly, none will make you rich. Only you, by yourself can make you rich. All the lessons you need to learn in the stock market, you must learn on your own. Through your own personal experience. Not from someone else's experience. Just like in any other life endeavor. You learn from your own experiences, not from someone else's. And you only learn by doing, not by reading. Okay, why then should you be buying this book? My answer is that you should not. Unless you are trying to confirm what your eyes are telling you about the market. This book was written for my own use to keep a running tab of the stocks that are on my watchlist as of this writing. Six months or a year from now, who knows, the list may or may not have changed much. Just have to wait, and see. Six months or later from now, once can look at these stocks and see what messages they were giving that came to be true. What is a watchlist? Watchlist is a term now everybody uses. But it really is a list of stocks that is on a list that you are watching. Watching for clues, hints, and actionable opportunities. It is a living, breathing list. Which means, it is constantly changing, ebbing, and waning with market conditions. You do not have to try hard to find stocks that wish to join or drop off this list. It happens automatically, dictated by the market. The best thing about a watchlist is that you have no reason to believe anyone else. All you need to know will be disclosed by the stocks on your watchlist. Is the market strong? Can you make money in the market under current conditions? Is this a bad market? Is this a good market? It is going up? Going down? Choppy? All that is there to know is indicated by the stocks on your watchlist. My watchlist has a few stocks at the current time. Many are unknown stocks to many. Some are known stocks to some. What is on my list may not be on your list. That is because what I see are seen from my eyes. Your eyes may see something else. My eyes learned to see what they see due to my own experiences. Yours will see what they want to see from your own experiences in the market.
