Clean Like a Pro: Tips and Techniques for Cleaning Your Home Like a Seasoned Professional Darlene Phillips, 2019-03-20 When you think about house cleaning, what comes to mind? For many people, even the thought of house cleaning is a source of irritation and dread, never mind the actual task. Some people ignore dust bunnies and dirty floors for months or years, tidying up only when forced to do so by the impending arrival of out-of-town in-laws. Other people clean their homes day to day as they go along and do a thorough cleaning every week or two religiously, and if a distant cousin happens to stop by unexpectedly, these are the people who are never ashamed to invite her in. These two approaches to house cleaning land at opposite ends of the cleaning spectrum. Most people fall somewhere in between. For most people, keeping a clean house is an ongoing project, never quite finished because the act of living life is messy, and who has the time to keep a perfectly clean house? And that's just fine. But if you're reading this, chances are you care about cleaning enough that you're open to ideas on how to improve your routines. Let's be honest, nobody loves to clean. I do it for a living, and I freely admit that I don't. Don't get me wrong, I don't mind cleaning; it's just not my favorite thing to do. It's my job, not my hobby. I don't believe those cleaning pros who claim they love to clean. I think they are full of baloney. What they love is getting a steady paycheck, and if you're willing and able to clean for a living, a steady paycheck is pretty much guaranteed, because, like I said before, nobody loves to clean. I can say this with some authority because I've been in the business for a loooong time, and I've seen the ones who love to clean come and go. When I started cleaning houses professionally, I had no idea what I was doing. I thought I did, but I didn't. As will happen when someone does the same job for three decades, I've learned a few things since then. I've been lucky to work for a lot of fussy people over the years, and those people taught me how to do the best job possible. They helped me to become a master of my trade. Or so I am told by the people for whom I work these days. Everybody loves a clean house. And it's important to clean your home from time to time. Cleaning keeps things in good shape, and if you never clean anything, after a certain point you're probably not going to want to live there any longer. Cleaning isn't rocket science, but it's also not something that we are born knowing how to do. Sure, anyone can push a broom around. And lots of folks think they're cleaning experts. But doing a really good job cleaning a house is a skill acquired through hands-on experience. What I've noticed lately is that there are more and more people who have no clue how to clean. I've encountered folks who don't know how to clean an oven or operate a vacuum cleaner. When I started out long ago, everyone for whom I worked had a good handle on how cleaning should be done (and they weren't shy about telling me so). These days, at least half of my clients leave me completely to my own devices because they don't really understand the breakdown of how their dirty house gets cleaned. So, whether you already know how to clean and are looking for ideas to streamline your process or you're a total novice who has no idea how to clean a house, I can help. I will share with you what I know about organizing, about using the right cleaning supplies and equipment to maximize efficiency, and I will walk you through the process of cleaning your home thoroughly. Take what ideas you want to use, leave the rest. I won't promise that my methods will make cleaning seem like a day at the beach. Cleaning isn't fun. It's a means to an end. The motivation to clean is the satisfaction you get from having done an excellent job after the job is finished. Your home will look and smell fresh and clean. That's it. Cleaning is what you have to do if you want to keep a nice home. If you're interested, I can help you with that. No baloney.

The Lost Art of JAN M. DOUGHERTY, 2011-03 Yes! you really can clean your house and everything in it using just 3 products and it will cost you about $20 per year. I have owned a residential cleaning company since 2004 and this book actually started life as my employees' handbook. Since this book was first published not much has changed. Dirt is still dirty and whether or not you want to clean your home, it still has to be cleaned. Most people hate to clean simply because they don't know how to do it, they were never taught. Were you actually taught how to clean? Probably not, but that's not your fault. Do you want to learn how to do it, like a professional, using minimal products and saving a bucket of money on cleaning supplies? If you do, then buy my book. First, I will send you to the store with a short shopping list; I will explain why I use each product and then how to use each product or tool, which by the way isn't much. I will then explain the logic behind my method of cleaning, called The PATH and then I will literally walk you through cleaning the different rooms in your house. The beauty of The PATH is that you can start and stop a cleaning job in any room and not lose your place. Just pick up where you left off and continue until the room is clean. So go answer the phone or change the baby. I only use 3 readily available products in both my business and in my house to clean everything. No more need for window, floor, counter, toilet, sink, tub, shower and mirror cleaners. No more polishes, waxes or air fresheners. Just think about how much you spend a year on cleaning products? Go ahead, I'll wait while you look under your sinks and calculate that. More than $20.00 per year? If you are spending more than that you need my book. Everyone that embraces my methodology has a cleaner home, extra money to spend on the important things and the time to enjoy them. I have a website; The Lost Art of House Cleaning.com where I have uploaded a number of videos demonstrating my methodology and posted numerous articles on cleaning particular things. I have read all the reviews posted about my book on Amazon and I found the vast majority to be very complimentary. I have also found that some of the harshest critics still recognized that my methodology works. In addition to the Amazon reviews I have personally received comments and compliments directly from the people that have bought my book. And I know that what I say in my book has helped thousands realize that cleaning their home is not all it's cracked to be if you know what you are doing. So buy my book, read it the first time for entertainment then read it a second time for inspiration and then, Enjoy the Clean! Thanks, Jan M Dougherty
