Information Ecologies Bonnie A. Nardi, Vicki O'Day, 2000-02-28 A call for informed, responsible engagement with information technology at the local level. An information ecology is a system of people, practices, technologies, and values in a local environment. Nardi and O'Day encourage the reader to become more aware of the ways people and technology are interrelated. They draw on their empirical research in offices, libraries, schools, and hospitals to show how people can engage their own values and commitments while using technology.
