Jean-François Lyotard

The German Economy During the Nineteenth Century Toni Pierenkemper,Richard Tilly,2004-02-01 In the 19th Century, economic growth was accompanied by large-scale structural change, known as industrialization, which fundamentally affected western societies. Even though industrialization is on the wane in some advanced economies and we are experiencing substantial structural changes again, the causes and consequences of these changes are inextricably linked with earlier industrialization. This means that understanding 19th Century industrialization helps us understand problems of contemporary economic growth. There is no recent study on economic developments in 19th Century Germany. So this concise volume, written specifically with students of German and economic history in mind, will prove to be most valuable, not least because of its wealth of statistical data.

Mehr als eine Erzählung Frank Bajohr,Anselm Doebring-Manteuffel,Claudia Kemper,Detlef Siegfried,2016-05-10 Neue Perspektiven auf die Zeitgeschichte der Bundesrepublik Noch immer bestimmten wenige Meistererzählungen das Bild der alten Bundesrepublik, obwohl die zeitgeschichtliche Forschung vielfältige Problematisierungen und alternative Erzählungen hervorgebracht hat. In seinem Aufsatz »Fünf Möglichkeiten, die Geschichte der Bundesrepublik zu erzählen aus dem Jahr 1999 hat Axel Schildt aus Anlass des 50. Jahrestages der Staatsgründung die in der Zeitgeschichtsforschung etablierten Lesarten aufgefächert und problematisiert. In diesem Band werden derartige Meistererzählungen von Zeithistorikerinnen und Zeithistoriker überprüft, differenziert und neu arrangiert. Entstanden sind sehr unterschiedliche und zugleich einander ergänzende Vorschläge, die Geschichte der Bundesrepublik zu erzählen

Phenomenology Jean-Francois Lyotard,1991-10-30 This translation of Lyotard's first book, La Phenomenologie, supplies an important link to Lyotard's more recent works. Phenomenology presents a commentary on the phenomenological movement. From the dual perspectives of a work on, and of, phenomenology, Lyotard's text profiles the different aspects of phenomenology, focusing particularly on the writings of Hegel, Husserl, Merleau-Ponty, and Tran Duc Thao. Phenomenology marks a particular episode in Lyotard's reflections on the philosophical project and is emblematic of his critical reflections on philosophy's involvements in routine, daily commitments. Like Merleau-Ponty, in this work Lyotard eliminates philosophy as a separate existence. Beyond offering an account of certain phenomenological themes, Lyotard's commentary explicates phenomenology's relevance to psychology, sociology, and history.

Adorno on Popular Culture Robert Winston Witkin,2003 Unpacks Adorno's critique of popular culture in an engagingly, looking at the development of theories of authority, commodification and negative dialectics. Goes on to consider Adorno's writing on specific aspects of popular culture.

November Gustave Flaubert,2016-06-14 November, ein Frühwerk Flauberts, kreist um den Eros als magisch-betäubende Kraft. Der damals einundzwanzigjährige Autor erzählt in halb träumerisch-romantischer, halb realistischer Perspektive vom erwachenden Liebesverlangen eines Jugendlichen. Die Liebe zur unerreichbaren Frau ergießt sich in einer phantasierenden, bilderreichen Sprache, die alles, Naturerlebnisse und überschwängliche Liebe, in einem breiten reißenden Strom vereint.Dieses Jugendwerk...

Romanfiguren Theodor Fontanes in Anaeragogischer Sicht Klaus Dieckhoff,1994 In den Modernisierungsprozessen des 19. und 20. Jahrhunderts ist das Erwachsenwerden schwieriger, das Erwachsensein problematischer geworden. Erzählende Literatur bietet die Chance, Krisenanfälligkeit individueller Lebensläufe in ihrem Zusammenhang mit der Dynamik der gesellschaftlichen Entwicklung zu studieren. Fontanes Romanwerk beleuchtet drei Aspekte, die im Modernisierungsprozeß problematisch wurden: die Verknüpfung von Liebe und Ehe; die Veränderungen der Wir-Ich-Balance; die Problematik eines gesellschaftlichen Bewußtseins unter den Bedingungen von Modernisierung und Individualisierung.

The Future is Mestizo Virgilio P. Elizondo,2000 Like the Chinese dicho, we are blessed to be living in interesting times, on the border of the new mestizaje. As one member of this exciting movimento nudging and being nudged into the future, I am delighted to have discovered this book. I have seen the new millennium and the future is us. -- Sandra Cisneros.

Mastering the City Koos Bosma,Helma Hellinga,Nederlands Architectuurinstituut,1997 This year the respected Dutch architecture journal OASE celebrates its twenty-fifth anniversary. Over the years, OASE has evolved into an international resource in which a reflective and critical approach to architecture, urban development and landscape architecture is the mainstay. Its jubilee is being marked by a special, double-thick English-language edition of the journal that compiles all of its most important historical essays and background articles, making a great many key texts accessible to an international readership for the first time. This anthology affords an overview of the themes that have dominated architectural discourse in the Netherlands, Belgium and beyond over recent decades, set in a broader context by new texts by prominent architecture historians. Thus, this volume is an important source of information on developments in academic debate as well as professional practice in the fields of architecture, urban design and landscape architecture.

Island Rivers John R. Wagner,Jerry K. Jacka,2018-06-19 Anthropologists have written a great deal about the coastal adaptations and seafaring traditions of Pacific Islanders, but have had much less to say about the significance of rivers for Pacific island culture, livelihood and identity. The authors of this collection seek to fill that gap in the ethnographic record by drawing attention to the deep historical attachments of island communities to rivers, and the ways in which those attachments are changing in response to various forms of economic development and social change. In addition to making a unique contribution to Pacific island ethnography, the authors of this volume speak to a global set of issues of immense importance to a world in which water scarcity, conflict, pollution and the degradation of riparian environments afflict growing numbers of people. Several authors take a political ecology approach to their topic, but the emphasis here is less on hydro-politics than on the cultural meaning of rivers to the communities we describe. How has the cultural significance of rivers shifted as a result of colonisation, development and nation-building? How do people whose identities are fundamentally rooted in their relationship to a particular river renegotiate that relationship when the river is dammed to generate hydro-power or polluted by mining activities? How do blockages in the flow of rivers and underground springs interrupt the intergenerational transmission of local ecological knowledge and hence the ability of local communities to construct collective identities rooted in a sense of place?

Cy Twombly Thierry Greub,2018 The artworks of the US artist Cy Twombly (1928-2011) are considered to be hermetic and inaccessible. Pencil scribblings, explosions of paint, tumbling lines, overlapping layers of color, and inscriptions, geometrical figures, numerals, rows of numbers, words, fragments of quotations, and enigmatic work-titles present very special challenges to both researchers and viewers. While art historians together with scholars of Egyptology, Archaeology, German, Greek, English, Japanese, and the Romance languages inquire into the relation between title, work, and inscribed quotations, leading representatives of research on Twombly focus on the visual language and scriptural-imagistic quality of Cy Twombly's work. Through comprehensive interpretations of famous single works and groups in all the artistic media employed by Twombly, the volume's cross-disciplinary view opens up a route into the associative-referential visual language of Cy Twombly.

Lessons on the Analytic of the Sublime Jean-François Lyotard, 1994 This volume presents a close reading of Kant's Critique of Judgment looking specifically at the complex paragraphs 23-29: The Analytic of the Sublime.

Befreites Wohnen Sigfried Giedion, 2018 Sigfried Giedion's small, but vocal manifesto Befreites Wohnen (1929) is an early manifestation of modernist housing ideology and as such key to the broader understanding of the ambitions of the International Congresses of Modern Architecture (CIAM) and the debate on the industrialization of construction processes and its impact on public housing at the beginning of the twentieth century. An important step in Giedion's rise as one of the foremost propagators of modern architecture, this manifesto is based on the argumentative power of visual comparisons, and the only book the art historian both authored and designed. The German facsimile edition of Giedion's Befreites Wohnen is completed by an English translation and a scholarly essay that anchors the work in the context of its time and suggests the book's relevance for contemporary architectural discourse.--Site internet de l'éditeur.

Modeling Bounded Rationality Ariel Rubinstein, 1998 The notion of bounded rationality was initiated in the 1950s by Herbert Simon; only recently has it influenced mainstream economics. In this book, Ariel Rubinstein defines models of bounded rationality as those in which elements of the process of choice are explicitly embedded. The book focuses on the challenges of modeling bounded rationality, rather than on substantial economic implications. In the first part of the book, the author considers the modeling of choice. After discussing some psychological findings, he proceeds to the modeling of procedural rationality, knowledge, memory, the choice of what to know, and group decisions. In the second part, he discusses the fundamental difficulties of modeling bounded rationality in games. He begins with the modeling of a game with procedural rational players and then surveys repeated games with complexity considerations. He ends with a discussion of computability constraints in games. The final chapter includes a critique by Herbert Simon of the author's methodology and the author's response. The Zeuthen Lecture Book series is sponsored by the Institute of Economics at the University of Copenhagen.
