The New Attorney's Guide on How to Survive Big Law S. B. McIntyre, 2017-12-09 This book is for new attorneys who are about to embark on the Big Law journey. It contains tips intended to protect new attorneys from making some of the more common mistakes they may make simply because they are unfamiliar with how Big Law operates. Some are mistakes I have witnessed other people make. Others are mistakes I have made myself. None are mistakes new attorneys need to make if they read this book and commit the tips and principles to mind. Big Law is a different environment than most people are used to, and there are numerous skills required to navigate it outside of the more conventional ones such as how to write a memo or how to do legal research. Most people, as a consequence, will go in prepared to do legal work, but will be ill-equipped to deal with the politics and social aspects of the job. This book is my attempt to prepare readers to adjust to this new world and engage in behaviors that will help them rather than hurt them. Included here are the 10 tips I wish I had known before I entered Big Law. Unfortunately, I had to learn all this through observation and trial and error. I had nobody to pull me aside to whisper in my ear all the things I needed to do to be successful. No friend who had been there before and who could light my way. Luckily you won't have that problem. Consider me the friend with insight into Big Law who wants you to do well. Read the book, follow the tips, and go forth and conquer Big Law!

The 10 Stupidest Mistakes Men Make When Facing Divorce Joseph Cordell, 2010-12-07 The Knowledge Every Man Needs for a Successful Divorce Each year 500,000 men will face divorce, and most of them make at least one crucial—and often irreversible—mistake. These errors might seem minor, such as moving out while things get sorted out, or thinking of “temporary” orders as being truly temporary. But when they get to court, these men discover they have put themselves in a terrible position. They may have to give up their house, pay impossibly high alimony, or even lose custody. You could be one of these men. But you don't have to be. Joseph Cordell, the founder of the nation's largest law firm focusing on men's divorce and the creator of the Dads Divorce website, has seen the consequences of the mistakes men make. Drawing upon the huge number of cases that Cordell & Cordell has handled, this book identifies the 10 most common mistakes that end up hurting men in divorce. Cordell demystifies the divorce process, explains what judges consider in making their final decisions, and lays out a road map for positive actions men can take to achieve the best possible outcome. No man should face divorce without this book.
