Mainframe Computer Systems Stephen H. Kaisler,2020-10-22 This volume describes General Electric Corporation's venture into developing second and third generation mainframe computer systems. The General Electric Corporation (GE), which began its life as the Edison Electric Co., was long involved in electrical appliances and industrial machines. It was also a founder of the Radio Corporation of America, which eventually became one of its competitors, and developed many electrical systems in order to control different types of industrial machines. Its breakthrough into computing came with its winning bid to provide the computing systems for the Electronic Recording Method of Accounting) system developed for the Bank of America by the Stanford Research Institute. The success of this project led GE to develop the GE-200 series which was the foundation for commercial timesharing. The GE-235 was selected by Dartmouth for its Dartmouth Time Sharing System (DTSS), an innovative academic time-sharing system. BASIC was developed on the GE-235 computer system under DTSS. GE enhanced it to develop its Mark II/III Time Sharing System, apparently the first commercial time sharing service in the world. GE develop the GE-300/-400 systems for industrial process control. The GE-600 series replaced the GE-200 series and demonstrated innovation in time-sharing systems. The GE-645 was selected to host Multics, which was developed by MIT. However, GE felt that it could not compete in computing against IBM, Univac, and other mainframes competitors, so it folded its tent and sold its Computer Division to Honeywell, Inc. Nevertheless, GE will be remembered for many innovations which continue to be used in modern computing systems.

Art and Graphic Design Benoit Buquet,2021 An innovative exploration of the intersection of graphic design and American art of the 1960s and 1970s This fascinating study of the role that graphic design played in American art of the 1960s and 1970s focuses on the work of George Maciunas, Ed Ruscha, and Sheila Levrant de Bretteville. Examining how each of these artists utilized typography, materiality, and other graphic design aesthetics, Benoît Buquet reveals the importance of graphic design in creating a sense of coherence within the disparate international group of Fluxus artists, an elusiveness and resistance to categorization that defined much of Ruscha's brand of Pop Art, and an open and participatory visual identity for a range of feminist art practices. Rigorous and compelling scholarship and a copious illustration program that presents insightful juxtapositions of objects--some of which have never been discussed before--combine to shed new light on a period of abundant creativity and cultural transition in American art and the intimate, though often overlooked, entwinement between art and graphic design.

Bank Exam Pedia Bharath Seeman, 2015-02-16 In this present era of competition, every competitive examination consists of 5 sections Quantitative Aptitude, Reasoning, General English, Computer Science and General Awareness related to banking industry. After teaching more than 18,000 students in 28 years, we have seen a lot of students spending their time practicing aptitude and reasoning alone. But the students who cleared the exam would definitely say the above method of practicing would not help because merely passing in Aptitude and Reasoning sections will not help. Students should also think about the other sections and overall cut off. We know a lot of students who cleared all the sections but failed to clear the overall cut off. In fact, Practicing GK and English is the only way to raise the overall cut-off. So, we have decided to dedicate this entire magazine just for General Awareness & Banking awareness. We sincerely believe that students who practice the next 100 pages would secure 40 marks from the Banking awareness section. We thank Google Play for publishing our e-magazine on their mobile platform. We also thank our students who assisted to bring this magazine out.
