The Warren Companion David A. Roach,Jon B. Cooke,2001 Six years after debuting the legendary horror movie magazine Famous Monsters of Filmland, Warren Publications suddenly took the comics world by storm in 1965 by releasing Creepy #1 before a stunned, delighted - and terrified - audience. Filled with compelling tales of terror exquisitely illustrated by many of the best artists of the day, the magazine proved to be the tip of an iceberg of horror as Warren Publishing went on to produce some of the finest comic-book stories in the history of the form. In the pages of Creepy, Eerie, Vampirella, Blazing Combat, and many other mags, readers discovered extraordinary artists and writers coming together to create extraordinary work. Then, in 1983, the company just suddenly disappeared ... In 1999, Comic Book Artist magazine published the most comprehensive history of the oft-neglected company to date in its Eisner Award-winning fourth issue. But, until now, the riveting story of Warren Publishing was incomplete. In addition to reprinting the contents of CBA #4, this volume contains many new interviews, features, articles, and the most comprehensive and exhaustive checklist ever compiled on Warren Publishing's incredible output.

The Purple Heart of Erlik Robert E. Howard,2015-02-12 This early work by Robert E. Howard was originally published in the 1936 and we are now republishing it with a brand new introductory biography. 'The Purple Heart of Erlik' is one of Howard's spicy stories featuring the character Wild Bill Clayton. Robert Ervin Howard was born in Peaster, Texas in 1906. During his youth, his family moved between a variety of Texan boomtowns, and Howard - a bookish and somewhat introverted child - was steeped in the violent myths and legends of the Old South. At fifteen Howard began to read the pulp magazines of the day, and to write more seriously. The December 1922 issue of his high school newspaper featured two of his stories, 'Golden Hope Christmas' and 'West is West'. In 1924 he sold his first piece - a short caveman tale titled 'Spear and Fang' - for $16 to the not-yet-famous Weird Tales magazine. Howard's most famous character, Conan the Cimmerian, was a barbarian-turned-King during the Hyborian Age, a mythical period of some 12,000 years ago. Conan featured in seventeen Weird Tales stories between 1933 and 1936 which is why Howard is now regarded as having spawned the 'sword and sorcery' genre. The Conan stories have since been adapted many times, most famously in the series of films starring Arnold Schwarzenegger.

Burnished Rows of Steel Jeremy Davies,2016-01-05 Most who read the Declaration of Independence find three foundational liberties promised to our citizens: life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. An increasing number of citizens seem to be discovering the fourth: the right to alter or abolish a form of government that leads invariably to tyranny. Since leaving the military and his security contracting work behind, Dave has been preparing himself for the time when exercising the right to alter or abolish may become necessary. When he is approached on behalf of some powerful men who are prepared to risk their fortune to strike a blow against the political tyranny embodied by the president, Dave is prepared to accept the role of assassin. As he prepares to accept the mission of a lifetime, an alternate narrative begins to unfold. He struggles to discover whether the hit will be on behalf of a besieged gun maker or whether it has been orchestrated by members of the president's own party, who feel that his death would rescue the chances of their party heading into an election. As the motive becomes clear, so does Dave's course of action. He is caught in a race against time to thwart their plans, not for the leader of a country but for the life of a friend.

Is This Tomorrow ,2016 Originally published in the midst of the cold war, Is This Tomorrow is a classic example of red scare propaganda. Reprinted here for the first time in 70 years.
