ECOOOP 2008 - Object-Oriented Programming Jan Vitek, 2008-07-01 It is a pleasure to present the proceedings of the 22nd European Conference on Object-Oriented Programming (ECOOOP 2008) held in Paphos, Cyprus. The conference continues to serve a broad object-oriented community with a technical program spanning theory and practice and a healthy mix of industrial and academic participants. This year a strong workshop and tutorial program complemented the main technical track. We had 13 workshops and 8 tutorials, as well as the co-located Dynamic Language Symposium (DLS). Finally, the program was rounded out with a keynote by Rachid Guerraoui and a banquet speech by James Noble. As in previous years, two Dahl-Nygaard awards were selected by AITO, and for the first time, the ECOOP Program Committee gave a best paper award. The proceedings include 27 papers selected from 138 submissions. The papers were reviewed in a single-blind process with three to five reviews per paper. Preliminary versions of the reviews were made available to the authors a week before the PC meeting to allow for short (500 words or less) author responses. The responses were discussed at the PC meeting and were instrumental in reaching decisions. The PC discussions followed Oscar Nierstrasz' Champion pattern. PC papers had five reviews and were held at a higher standard.

Spidering Hacks Morbus Iff, Tara Calishain, 2003-10-28 The Internet, with its profusion of information, has made us hungry for ever more, ever better data. Out of necessity, many of us have become pretty adept with search engine queries, but there are times when even the most powerful search engines aren't enough. If you've ever wanted your data in a different form than it's presented, or wanted to collect data from several sites and see it side-by-side without the constraints of a browser, then Spidering Hacks is for you. Spidering Hacks takes you to the next level in Internet data retrieval--beyond search engines--by showing you how to create spiders and bots to retrieve information from your favorite sites and data sources. You'll no longer feel constrained by the way host sites think you want to see their data presented--you'll learn how to scrape and repurpose raw data so you can view in a way that's meaningful to you. Written for developers, researchers, technical assistants, librarians, and power users, Spidering Hacks provides expert tips on spidering and scraping methodologies. Then you'll learn how to interpret and understand the data, repurpose it for use in other applications, and even build authorized interfaces to integrate the data into your own content. By the time you finish Spidering Hacks, you'll be able to: Aggregate and associate data from disparate locations, then store and manipulate the data as you like Gain a competitive edge in business by knowing when competitors' products are on sale, and comparing sales ranks and product placement on e-commerce sites Integrate third-party data into your own applications or web sites Make your own
