Knowledge Asset Management Gregoris Mentzas,Dimitris Apostolou,Andreas Abecker,Ron Young,2012-12-06 A new economy is emerging. An economy that is transforming the fundamental rules of business. An economy based on exploiting knowledge and innovation. An economy where knowledge is the main source of wealth for regions, nations, enter prises and people. This new economy is based on economic values far removed from those of the industrial economy. Value has shifted towards intangibles and in particular towards increasing value by incorporating knowledge into services and products. The advent of this new economy is rapidly changing the role and structure of global business. Winning enterprises are those best able to harness the benefits and opportunities of information and communication technology, capitalize on their knowledge base and move at the speed of the market. Knowledge management lies at the heart of the European Community's competitiveness strategy. The European Commission facilitates and supports applied research in knowledge management through its Information Society Technologies (IST) programme, a major theme of research and technological development within the European Union's Research and Technology Development Framework Programme. Specifically, the New Methods of Work and Electronic Commerce action of the IST programme supports long-term applied research in areas combining technological innovation with new work practices and advanced business and work models.
