The Fourth Industrial Revolution Klaus Schwab,2017-01-03 World-renowned economist Klaus

Schwab, Founder and Executive Chairman of the World Economic Forum, explains that we have an opportunity to shape the fourth industrial revolution, which will fundamentally alter how we live and work. Schwab argues that this revolution is different in scale, scope and complexity from any that have come before. Characterized by a range of new technologies that are fusing the physical, digital and biological worlds, the developments are affecting all disciplines, economies, industries and governments, and even challenging ideas about what it means to be human. Artificial intelligence is already all around us, from supercomputers, drones and virtual assistants to 3D printing, DNA sequencing, smart thermostats, wearable sensors and microchips smaller than a grain of sand. But this is just the beginning: nanomaterials 200 times stronger than steel and a million times thinner than a strand of hair and the first transplant of a 3D printed liver are already in development. Imagine “smart factories” in which global systems of manufacturing are coordinated virtually, or implantable mobile phones made of biosynthetic materials. The fourth industrial revolution, says Schwab, is more significant, and its ramifications more profound, than in any prior period of human history. He outlines the key technologies driving this revolution and discusses the major impacts expected on government, business, civil society and individuals. Schwab also offers bold ideas on how to harness these changes and shape a better future—one in which technology empowers people rather than replaces them; progress serves society rather than disrupts it; and in which innovators respect moral and ethical boundaries rather than cross them. We all have the opportunity to contribute to developing new frameworks that advance progress.

Services in Global Value Chains Patrick Low, Gloria O Pasadilla, 2016-06-21 This compilation of 22

firm-specific case studies is an important contribution to the discussion of 'servicification' trends in manufacturing. 'Services have increased in importance and value in many manufacturing value chains, making companies that produce physical products look more like service enterprises. What services do global value chains use in their operations, how important are they and how do economic policies shape firms' configurations, operations, and location of global value chains? This book addresses these questions and more. The interviewed firms, based in 12 APEC economies, come from different sectors ranging from multinational automotive, construction equipment, and electrical appliance manufacturers to small and medium manufacturers of watches or chemical for water treatment. The book analyses what specific services are important in different stages of the value chain, and whether they are typically provided in-house or outsourced. Contents: Manufacturing-Related Services (Patrick Low and Gloria O Pasadilla) Manufacturing of Aircraft Control Systems in the Philippines (Andre Wirjo and Gloria O Pasadilla) Industrial Welding Services in Thailand (William Haines) Manufacturing of Mining and Construction Equipment (David Sit and Patrick Low) Manufacturing of Computer Servers (Yuhua Zhang) Wastewater Treatment Services (Arian Hassani and Andre Wirjo) Manufacturing of Automotive Components in the ASEAN Region (Denise Cheung) Manufacturing of Oil and Gas Industry Equipment in Singapore (Andre Wirjo and Gloria O Pasadilla) Car Manufacturing in the Philippines (Sherry Stephenson) Manufacturing of Thermal Power Generation Equipment (Gloria O Pasadilla) Production of Precision Die and Machine Parts in Thailand (Denise Cheung and Andre Wirjo) Manufacturing of Refrigerators (David Sit) Watch Manufacturing (Deborah Elms) Manufacturing of Automotive Components in Mexico: Perspectives from Three Firms (Andre Wirjo, Gloria O Pasadilla and Joel G Bassig) Manufacturing of Telecommunications Equipment (Huani Zhu and Gloria O Pasadilla) Manufacturing of Printed Circuit Boards in Canada (Ben

Cerebral Blood Flow Andrea Boicelli,Aldo Rescigno,2012-12-06 The NATO Advanced Study Institute on Cerebral Blood Flow: Mathematical Models, Instrumentation, and Imaging Techniques was held in L'Aquila, Italy, June 2-13, 1986. Contributions to this program were received from the University of L'Aquila, Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche, Siemens Elettra S.p.A., and Bracco S.p.A. Recent studies of the cerebral blood circulation have lagged behind analysis of other parameters such as glucose utilization, transmitter distribution, and precursors. This Advanced Study Institute tried to fill this gap by analyzing in detail different physical techniques such as Autoradiography (including Double-Tracer Auto radiography and highly specific tracers as Iodoantipyrine, Micro spheres), Single Photon Emission Computed Tomography, Nuclear Magnetic Resonance. Each method was analyzed in regards to its precision, resolution, response time. A considerable part of this Institute was devoted to the mathematics of CBF measurement, in its two aspects, i.e. the modeling of the underlying kinetic system and the statistical analysis of the data. The modeling methods proposed included the development of a differential algebra whereby the differential and integral equations involved could be solved by simple algebraic methods, including graph theoretical ones; the statistical methods proposed included the illustration of different parametrizations of possible use in the interpretation of experimental results.
