How Nurses Can Facilitate Meaning-making and Dialogue Jan Sitvast,2020-10-28 In healthcare, nurses often have a great deal of contact with patients on a 24-hour basis. They are in a position to hear the patient's stories not only while giving care, but also during more informal communication throughout the day. This puts them in a position to use their response to patients in a more conscious manner and realize therapeutic aims by exploiting narrative means in a methodological way. This book extensively describes how this can be accomplished, not only through a theoretical exposé, but also using case studies. In addition to this pragmatic focus, it explains how narrative relates to larger concepts such as self-management, shared decision making, recovery and person-centred care, and shows that narrative can be a vehicle to these desired outcomes. The book also considers organizational aspects of narrative-oriented healthcare by introducing a model in which narrative plays an important role. As such, it will allow nurses in the field to make a paradigmatic switch from a perspective dominated by delivery of care to one that is person-centred, recovery-oriented and dialogic in nature.

The Photo-instrument as Therapeutic Intervention in Mental Health Care Jan Sitvast,2012 This original work deals with innovative work within the field of mental health care and is of special interest to nurses and other caregivers who are engaged in recovery-oriented care. It describes in detail the therapeutic value of photography. At the heart of this hermeneutic phenomenological study is the contribution of photography to the process of meaning making that patients go through when reflecting on illness and how to live a life beyond illness.

A Therapist's Guide to Treating Eating Disorders in a Social Media Age Shauna Frisbie,2020-09-08 An innovative therapeutic approach for counteracting the impact of social media on eating disorders and identity formation. All humans need space to think, to be, and to process without constant distraction. This is especially true of adolescents and young adults, for whom identity formation is a consuming task. Social media has generated both a place for the creation of identity and an audience. But constant connection leaves little space without intrusion from others. For those with body dissatisfaction and/or eating disorders, living in today's world can be especially challenging, and viewing images on social media and other online formats can be devastating. Shauna Frisbie utilizes phototherapy techniques to view client-selected images (whether they be of themselves or others) to help uncover underlying messages that are impacting their relationship to their bodies. Integrating concepts of healing narratives, neuroscience, and phototherapy, this book will help any therapist promote self-compassion, self-reflection, and healing in their clients.

A LOOK AT CONCEPTUAL ART MAZLUM GÖZE,2022-11-07 1.INTRODUCTION Imagine a profession that is thought to have no limits, but the job itself can set its limits.

Whether the field of this profession is human and everything that belongs to human beings, you have in your hands your self and the fact that you live in the world. Let these seemingly small facts be interpreted by being shaped, and now I ask, are there not explicit or hidden symbols in the thought you have formed? Here, in Conceptual Art, he tells us that we can apply art and the symbols in the work to everything, anywhere. However, it should be known that if you are going to make Conceptual Art, your infrastructure must be ready. Where do we find the factors that make up thought that has been transformed into a form that we can apply everywhere? Isn't it the symbols that are involved in the work done voluntarily or involuntarily? The events we experience form the final state of our psychology. When the artist puts aside the concern about where and how and only makes form, this form will be nothing at first, but then it will turn into many things, this process can even make us someone else later on. People can find the latest state of their psychology in every action they take to get rid of the troubles of life. We can find ourselves in every movie we watch in every article we read. It's about how we look. Art does this to us, and when we go outside, it places many facts that we think are nothing. So why should the artist be stuck with dogmas during the production and transmission of his work? The artist can see his wish to transfer in a tree stump. Isn't it natural to consider the ceremony of throwing out a garbage disposal as an act of getting rid of the excess in our lives and presenting it to the audience as a work of art? Well, wouldn't the artist displaying this interpretation offer us symbols at some point? Although the artist hides this, maybe not in the first reading, but after that he will definitely give it away. Is the artist's most natural state his primitive state? Everything is hidden in primitiveness. The foundations of many formations that we consider new today are hidden in the Cro-Magnon, the first race of the Homo Sapiens subspecies. Maybe it was magic, maybe it was the ingredients of the magic, maybe it was the ceremony. Regardless of how these ceremonies are, they are the factors that naturally make up the theater. Doesn't it point to the earth's art that they have made on the mountain, the stone and the soil? Of course, there are many effects. Let's take a subject, the first invention of primitive man was a needle. Let's say you make your clothes with this invention. Doesn't the position of the person that they think while making this dress affect the dress they have seen and experienced until that day? Is it not possible to place images that distinguish the owner of the relevant dress from other people? Yes, it is possible and very normal action. Now, let's fictionalize this person superficially, there is a tribe and the owner of the dress is the leader of the tribe, and the person who makes the dress is the man he loves, the father of the children he has given birth to. The only woman of the tribe who sews a dress will inevitably place images that distinguish it from the other men of the tribe. We can even find the distinguishing feature in the differences in the seams hidden in the dress. This has influenced fashion, painting and many other branches of art. He disciplined all the arts within himself. Of course, his thoughts and dreams during production are scenarios. It is fiction and he is a screenwriter himself. Dreaming is the most natural impulse and often a life support unit that cannot be inhibited. It has been scientifically proven that even animals dream. The dream is a fiction. The human being, who is more developed than the animal, knows the way of conveying this fiction. The must have is the type of person who sets the rules. So it is human who can lift it. Let him choose his own presentation as he constructs and shapes what he imagines. Whatever the material is, let him do it just for art, for himself or to give a message to people, without worrying about color and balance. The artist, who makes conceptual art, contains his own truth that hides all the elements, no matter where he conveys and expresses. This truth is hidden in icons. The purpose of this research is to convey the existence of this fact to the reader.
