The Szeged School of Ethnology Gábor Barna,2004 The first university department of ethnology in Hungary was established in 1929 in the Franz Joseph University of Szeged. This book examines the many stages of the university's history. The first professor was the folklorist Sandor Solymossy (1864-1945). After his retirement the chair was not filled in Szeged from 1934 to 1947. In the 1940s many of the leading representatives of ethnography in Hungary in the 20th century were connected with the school: Gyula Ortutay, Istvan Talasi, Bela Gunda and others. In 1947 Sandor Balint (1904-1980) was appointed to the reorganized chair of ethnography. The totalitarian dictatorship of socialism barely tolerated ethnography which it regarded as a national science, and in 1965 Sandor Balint was condemned in a show trial and forced to retire. Development of the department and the teaching of ethnography did not begin until the time of the change of political system (1989-1990). Full-time training in ethnography, folkloristics and cultural anthropology has been given since 1992/1993.

The People's Republic of Desire Annie Wang,2009-10-13 An uncensored, eye-opening, and laugh-out-loud funny portrait of modern China as seen through the lives and loves of four professional women in contemporary Beijing. Divorce, oral sex, plastic surgery. Indulging in a Starbucks coffee, admitting to the emotional repercussions of a one-night stand, giggling over watching pornography. These once taboo subjects have become the substance of daily conversations and practices among urban women in contemporary Beijing.

It seems that no one remembers what happened at Tiananmen Square in 1989. A cross between Sex and the City and The Joy Luck Club, The People's Republic of Desire follows four sassy gals as they preen and pounce among Beijing's Westernized professional class, exultantly obsessed with brand names, celebrity, and sex.

Unravelling Civilisation Hagen Schulz-Forberg, 2005 This volume is a collection of contributions about the history and practice of travel and travel writing from a variety of academic disciplines including anthropology, history, linguistics and literary criticism. It brings together scholars from over ten different countries and reflects on what travel is and how travel writings function. It traces the history of travel and travel writing and the notion or idea of a European civilisation that permeates performances and perceptions. The notion of Europe appears as a set of quality standards as well as guidelines for experiences against which civilisations are measured. This set of standards and guidelines, however, is far from stable. It is a floating foundation carrying different versions of Europe throughout time. The authors tackle the problem from different angles: travels from Europe across the seven oceans transported the idea of European civilisation just as travels to Europe or within Europe. The volume explores the different meanings attached to the term 'Europe' and 'civilisation' throughout history and shows how different political or cultural contexts affect the notion of what Europe is or should be.
