Smart Dogs We Have Known Dr Rex Puterbaugh,2016-10-19 If someone says the world has gone to the dogs, that may bode well for the world, as dogs have a pretty good place in it. The dog has been man's best friend since the Stone Age when he kept his caveman company. Today's modern dog is often a part of the family. And what family doesn't think their dog is smart? See for yourself. In Smart Dogs We Have Known, Dr. Rex Puterbaugh presents tales of smart dogs from across the United States. Fellow veterinarians recollect accounts of dogs who showed their intelligence in the most charming, funny, and surprising ways. From the puppy who could tell time to the pooch who arrived for his vet appointment on his own, from the dog who waited diligently for his master to return from a train trip to tail-wagging babysitters, these lovable stories will even appeal to cat lovers. Dr. Puterbaugh contacted over 5,000 veterinarians for stories they couldn't forget and has picked the best of the bunch. Stories donated by national magazines and those that have filled veterinary hospitals for decades are delightfully recounted in this wonderful book.

They understand our body language and emotions, can be trained to perform important services, are devoted companions, and enjoy walks, tricks, dog sports or just hangin' out on the couch. So, how Dog Smart are you? What do you know or wish to know about the dog's history, perceptions, understanding of humans, and responses to different training methods? These topics and more come under the scrutiny of the Science Dog in Linda Case's latest myth-busting book. Learn to separate fact from fiction about the relationship between dogs and wolves, whether dominance should be a factor in dog training, what forms of reinforcement work best, and how to apply evidence-based training methods. Dog Smart will not only help you to be a better trainer, but will give you the tools for communicating the most current information about dogs to others - including the popular Science Dog character, neighbor Joe (who happens to know a lot about dogs).
