Finding Home: Policy Options for Addressing Homelessness in Canada ,2009

Being Young and Homeless Jeff Karabanow,2004 Being Young and Homeless is an intimate portrayal of life on the street from the perspective of young people in Toronto, Montreal, Halifax, and Guatemala City. Jeff Karabanow passionately portrays street youth experiences in various locales, highlighting reasons for entering street life, struggles to survive on the street, encounters with service providers, and for some, the street exiting process. This insightful book is relevant for students and practitioners of social work, sociology, social administration, and public policy.

Marketing Metaphors and Metamorphosis Philip J. Kitchen,2008-08 In the early 21st century, marketing is 'under fire' as never before. Its nature and contribution to business performance are under serious scrutiny by practitioners and theorists. Surely metaphors are more widely known in literature? Do they apply in marketing? Metaphors are widely used within marketing literature, yet are hardly ever identified as metaphorical in nature. This text aims to redress this omission. For example, such widely known topics as the marketing mix, globalization of markets, market segmentation, viral marketing, the product life cycle, and many others are in fact metaphors. Applied literally, as straightforward market management tools, they not only are hostage to fortune, but can seriously damage brand, product, and indeed company performance. Moreover, marketing itself may be a metaphor - apparently underlying or overarching many exchanges and relationships. Perhaps marketing is changing, or metamorphosing into something else, as yet undefined, but resonant with possibilities.--Résumé de l'éditeur.

Marketing Communications Philip J. Kitchen,1999 Marketing Communications provides a detailed study of the practical and theoretical frameworks underpinning marketing communications. Illustrated by numerous case vignettes, the book draws on the opinions, views, expertise and understanding of a large number of authors/contributors, who are recognised experts in their respective domains. Marketing Communications explores an area of exciting diversity and significant growth, especially as the 21st century unfolds. This is a comprehensive book, with excellent coverage of all key functional areas - from advertising to direct marketing, from marketing public relations to the Internet. But it also contains key theoretical chapters - from information processing to elaboration likelihood, from audience analysis to measuring the success rate.

Leaving the Streets Jeff Karabanow,Alexa Carson,Philip Clement,2010 Youth between sixteen and twenty-four are considered the fastest growing segment of the homeless population in Canada. While much has been said about why young people enter street life and the culture they encounter there, little has been said about how they exit the street. Through the voices of street youth and frontline workers, Leaving the Streets offers invaluable insights into young people's attempts to exit street life, examining the motivations and challenges, as well as the supports and barriers that aid and hurt youth through this process. Based on the findings from qualitative research done in six cities across Canada, this book demonstrates that exiting street life is a non-linear process involving several layers of motivation and action and action, woven together in a complex web that facilitates the breaking of old social bonds and the building of new ones. From shelters and support programs to mental health and drug use, this book examines the structural and Personal barriers to exiting and details the services that are available, and those that should be available, to help street youth find housing, income and the strength needed to start a new life. Fix Your Gut John W. Brisson, 2014-04-12 Keys to unlock the gateway to health, starting with your digestion. Years of research on the most cutting-edge gut interventions like probiotics, prebiotics, and herbal/mineral supplementation, combined with data and observation from regular consultation on digestive ailments, have culminated in this 3rd Edition of the definitive guide to your gut health, Fix Your Gut. Find out the real causes of surface-level digestive disturbances like acid reflux, heartburn, excessive burping/indigestion, and even the occasional gas. Benefit from the holistic results of your new and improved digestion. There is an average of 70 million Americans diagnosed with digestive disorders every year. More and more Americans are rushing to their doctors to treat conditions like heartburn, gas, GERD, SIBO, IBS, ulcerative colitis, and Crohn's disease. In our modern world, more digestive diseases and problems are being discovered than ever before. The most concerning aspect in light of this onslaught of illnesses is that science and natural medicine are already way ahead of the curve in relieving them, yet patients are not being given answers. When digestion tanks, most people turn to conventional medicine, which is great for emergency procedures and life-threatening conditions, but often doesn't offer what is needed for the prevention and treatment of disease. In everyone's medical treatment, there are benefits from a balance of natural and conventional medicine. Individuals deserve to be given the information required to make their own decisions, not only in treatment options for problems that might arise, but in the development of a healthy overall lifestyle. This book gives you the best interventions to improve your gut health, including how to change your diet to optimize your digestive system and enhance total body function. An ideal digestive system eliminates toxins, governs the immune system, absorbs nutrients, provides peak mental health, and ultimately makes it possible to get the most out of life. This is the only guide that examines all available treatments for hacking and maximizing your microbiome, down to each species of probiotic bacteria and every molecule of prebiotic fiber that might be utilized. Probiotics, prebiotics, herbal remedies, diet and lifestyle changes, and even pharmaceutical drugs are held under the microscope to help determine a gut-healing protocol that's right for your specific goals. We are all individuals with different genetics, microbiomes, and allergies, so every contingency is accounted for in the diverging paths of healing provided within this guide. In his definitive work, John Brisson explores and explains everything you need to know about digestive health. Fix Your Gut covers (and helps you discover): -How Your Digestive System Really Works-Tips to Improve Digestive Health-Probiotic Guide and Information (All Different Flora and Their Uses)-Supplement Brand Recommendations (Quality Matters)-Buying Supplements Online and Locally-Protocols for Most Digestive Diseases (GERD, LERD, SIBO, Gastritis, Gastroparesis, IBS, IBD, Esophageal Motility Disorders)-Protocols for Colon Cleansing and Parasite Elimination-Protocols for Constipation, Diarrhea, and Food Poisoning-Protocols to treat Candida, H. pylori, and C. diff Infections-The True Cause of Ulcerative Colitis and Crohn's Disease-Information on Different Diets and How They Affect Your Digestive Health-Gastrointestinal Cancer General Information and Alternative Treatments-Information on Antibiotics and Medicines Used to Treat Digestive Diseases-

Moon-face and Other Stories Jack London,1906 JACK LONDON (1876-1916), American novelist, born in San Francisco, the son of an itinerant astrologer and a spiritualist mother. He grew up in poverty, scratching a living in various legal and illegal ways -robbing the oyster beds, working in a canning factory and a jute mill, serving aged 17 as a common sailor, and taking part in the Klondike gold rush of 1897. This various experience provided the material for his works, and made him a socialist. The son of the Wolf (1900), the first of his collections of tales, is based upon life in the Far North, as is the book that brought him recognition, The Call of the Wild (1903), which tells the story of the dog Buck, who, after his master's death, is lured back to the primitive world to lead a wolf pack. Many other tales of struggle, travel, and adventure followed, including The Sea-Wolf (1904), White Fang (1906), South Sea Tales (1911), and Jerry of the South Seas (1917). One of London's most interesting novels is the semi-autobiographical Martin Eden (1909). He also wrote socialist treatises, autobiographical essays, and a good deal of journalism.

The Magic Drum and Other Favourite Stories Sudhā Mūrti, 2006 A princess thinks she was a bird, a coconut that cost a thousand rupees, and a shepherd with a bag of words...Kings and misers, princes and paupers, wise men and foolish boys, the funniest and oddest men and women come alive in this sparkling new collection of stories. The clever princess will only marry the man who can ask her a question she cannot answer; the orphan boy outwits his greedy uncles with a bag of ash; and an old couple in distress is saved by a magic drum. Sudha Murty's grandparents told her some of these stories when she was a child; others she heard from her friends from around the world. These delightful and timeless folktales have been her favourites for years, and she has recounted them many times over to the young people in her life. With this collection, they will be enjoyed by many more readers, of all ages. Age group of target audience is 8+.

On the Turn Bárbara Arizti, Silvia Martínez-Falquina, 2007 On the Turn: The Ethics of Fiction in Contemporary Narrative in English is an attempt to listen to the various voices that participate in the current dialogue on the relationship between fiction and ethics. The editors's (TM) introduction investigates the current state of affairs on the return to ethics in critical and literary consideration, and it opens up the way for the variety of approaches that follows. Participants include internationally recognized scholars like Andrew Gibson, Patricia Waugh, or Native American fiction writer and poet Gordon Henry, winner of the American Book Award in 1995. All in all, contributors cover a significant geographical diversity, and their approaches also vary from general theory to particular examples, from traditional interpretations to post-deconstruction ethics. Authors analyze texts both mainstream and marginal, colonial and postcolonial; they examine the ethics of race, gender and sexuality; the ethics of self-positioning and orientation; the ethics of style; the ethics of reception; the ethics of mode and genre; the ethics of extreme situations of evil, disease and fascism. In its search for a better understanding of the global/nationalistic world of today, On the Turn therefore moves beyond the scope of literary criticism into issues of wider, more urgent relevance. What should I, ought I, may I, must I, do, if anything, on the basis of reading, when I have read a literary work? What does reading a literary work authorize, or even command, me to do? Writing an essay about the work would be one response. On the Turn is a wonderfully diverse, learned, challenging, provocative, even sometimes controversial, collection of essays on the ethical dimensions of literature. This book is testimony to the continued lively interest in the ethical turn in literary studies. The authors are, for the most part, concerned with ethical theory and with ethically charged situations in postmodern novels in English, as they shape readers's (TM) values and judgments. Poetry and non-print media are, however, also discussed. J. Hillis Miller UCI Distinguished Research Professor of Comparative Literature and English, University of California at Irvine The Ethics of Fiction is an important and exciting volume that explores with energy and rigour the connections between ethics and literature. Relating literature to philosophy, neurobiology, politics, religion, deconstruction and psychoanalysis, the twenty two contributors richly advance â ~the ethical turnâ (TM) recently embraced by many critics. Works by authors such as Ian McEwan, A.S.Byatt, Charles Palliser, Hanif Kureishi, J.M. Coetzee, David Malouf, George Orwell, E.L. Doctorow, Flannery Oâ (TM)Connor, Toni Morrison and Paul Auster are presented in a new light and complex topics such as territoriality, the nature of love, Islamophobia and the politics of representation are tackled with imagination and intellectual integrity. This book is essential reading for anyone interested in the dialogue between ethics and literature. Avril Horner, Professor of English, Kingston University
