Verzeichnis der verkauften Gemälde im deutschsprachigen Raum vor 1800 Thomas Ketelsen,Tilman von Stockhausen,2011-12-07 For the first time, the Dictionary of sold paintings in the German-speaking area before 1800 is devoted to the mostly unexplored history of the German art market of the 18th century. Numerous auction catalogues from the period up to 1800, which had not been recorded before, were systematically evaluated for this work. Following a brief historical introduction, the authors -- Thomas Ketelsen and Tilman von Stockhausen -- present the body of 298 catalogues studied for this project. This 'catalogue of catalogues' alone provides a thorough survey of the art trade prior to 1800. The index of over 50,000 sold paintings, arranged alphabetically by artist, represents an invaluable tool for research into provenance. Entries contain the full text of individual lot numbers in the auction catalogue, listing the artist's name, date of auction, title, material and format of the painting, price fetched etc. Institution codes refer to the place of the auction and the auction house; information on both of them is provided by the index of catalogues. In addition, there are details on buyer and seller, provided their names have survived in handwritten annotations, as well as on the painting's contemporary whereabouts. Three indexes, arranged by artist, owner and previous owner, facilitate access to the information required.

Coping with International Conflict Roger Fisher,1997 Coping with International Conflict incorporates the expertise of Roger Fisher, coauthor of a bestselling book on negotiation, and coauthors Andrea Kupfer Schneider, Elizabeth Borgwardt, and Brian Ganson. Based on the authors' international consulting work, the book is designed to familiarize students with the theory and practice of conflict management as well as the newest negotiation techniques. The authors introduce basic components of conflict resolution theory - understanding partisan perceptions, analyzing the structure of negotiations, framing requests and demands - and provide exercises, charts, and checklists to highlight key points. Anecdotes, examples, and historic case studies of conflict areas such as the West Bank and Vietnam show theory in practice and demonstrate the use of conflict-resolution tools. As a test of students' newly acquired negotiation skills, the authors set up a problem-solving process in which students select a real-world problem and write an Action Memorandum - a proposal to be sent to a real decisionmaker. Instructors and students alike will find this text to be an invaluable resource - it provides a variety of formats in which to learn and apply conflict-management theory, as well as a variety of opportunities to practise negotiation techniques in the fascinating arena of international conflict management.
