I Am Vision Creator Odusola (Talitha D. Prophet),2021-09-13 Beer, cigarettes, and maybe a dirty magazine to pass the time. That's all Paul wants when he steps into the local gas station. Instead, he witnesses a supernatural event. Definitely not on his list for the night. Now Paul is discovering things he wasn't ready for...like the fact that he now seems to have bizarre powers. Instead of embracing his gift and fighting to save the world, Paul finds himself questioning his destiny. Everyone who knows him would agree—Paul is not the person you'd bet on to save the world. While he wants to prove those people wrong, he can't help but agree with them. He's not cut out for the job. All he wants to do is go back to that night at the gas station and change the "choose your own adventure" option. Even as he thinks this, something is pushing him in another direction. His life path is changing toward one he's subconsciously avoided his entire life. As the world crumbles into chaos, Paul finds himself clinging to the possibility of redemption, even if he doesn't want to admit it to himself. Paul has one big question for the divine comedian running the show: how the hell is someone who can't keep a house plant alive supposed to save the world?

Constitutive Visions Christa J. Olson,2015-06-13 In Constitutive Visions, Christa Olson presents the rhetorical history of republican Ecuador as punctuated by repeated arguments over national identity. Those arguments—as they advanced theories of citizenship, popular sovereignty, and republican modernity—struggled to reconcile the presence of Ecuador's large indigenous population with the dominance of a white-mestizo minority. Even as indigenous people were excluded from civic life, images of them proliferated in speeches, periodicals, and artworks during Ecuador's long process of nation formation. Tracing how that contradiction illuminates the textures of national-identity formation, Constitutive Visions places petitions from indigenous laborers alongside oil paintings, overlays woodblock illustrations with legislative debates, and analyzes Ecuador's nineteen constitutions in light of landscape painting. Taken together, these juxtapositions make sense of the contradictions that sustained and unsettled the postcolonial nation-state.

My Dreams JoAPSo "Dux" Nada Longo, 2022-11-03 Without exception of race, religion, gender, and age, every human being dreams when sleeping, and it is the presence of God in action who introduces the real overview of our projected thought which creates the dream. Any future action gets the true meaning form of our knowingly design that we all have to find for better perform our desires and preferences, angel characters, in order to live our paradise and then resist and fight low vibrations, archangel characters to rise our internal light on overcoming death, the failure to the divine riding. The loss of the vital energy are only for those who ignore the Almighty God present, the Christ with whom Jesus developed the communion becoming one and reflected the divine grace overcoming death. Anyone who sees Me, sees the father, Jesus said, the savior of the humanity and the way, the truth, and the life that no one can go to heaven without Christ. Dreams are one of the divine created faculties with different aspects allowing humans to directly communicate with Christ who just need you to be alive and achieve. The reason why when recognizing God's presence in your heart, you will take control of your key to happiness by your thoughts on monitoring and correcting yourself.

Crisis Vision Torin Monahan, 2022-08-29 In Crisis Vision, Torin Monahan explores how artists confront the racializing dimensions of contemporary surveillance. He focuses on artists ranging from Kai Wiedenhöfer, Paolo Cirio, and Hank Willis Thomas to Claudia Rankine and Dread Scott, who engage with what he calls crisis vision—the regimes of racializing surveillance that position black and brown bodies as targets for police and state violence. Many artists, Monahan contends, remain invested in frameworks that privilege transparency, universality, and individual responsibility in ways that often occlude racial difference. Other artists, however, disrupt crisis vision by confronting white supremacy and destabilizing hierarchies through the performance of opacity. Whether fostering a recognition of a shared responsibility and complicity for the violence of crisis vision or critiquing how vulnerable groups are constructed and treated globally, these artists emphasize ethical relations between strangers and ask viewers to question their own place within unjust social orders.

God's Internationalists David P. King, 2019-06-11 Over the past seventy years, World Vision has grown from a small missionary agency to the largest Christian humanitarian organization in the world, with 40,000 employees, offices in nearly one hundred countries, and an annual budget of over $2 billion. While founder Bob Pierce was an evangelist with street smarts, the most recent World Vision U.S. presidents move with ease between megachurches, the boardrooms of Fortune 500 companies, and the corridors of Capitol Hill. Though the organization has remained decidedly Christian, it has earned the reputation as an elite international nongovernmental organization managed efficiently by professional experts fluent in the language of both marketing and development. God's Internationalists is the first comprehensive study of World Vision—or any such religious humanitarian agency. In chronicling the organization's transformation from 1950 to the present, David P. King approaches World Vision as a lens through which to explore shifts within post-World War II American evangelicalism as well as the complexities of faith-based humanitarianism. Chronicling the evolution of World Vision's practices, theology, rhetoric, and organizational structure, King demonstrates how the organization rearticulated and retained its Christian identity even as it expanded beyond a narrow American evangelical subculture. King's pairing of American evangelicals' interactions abroad with their own evolving identity at home reframes the traditional narrative of modern American evangelicalism while also providing the historical context for the current explosion of evangelical interest in global social engagement. By examining these patterns of change, God's Internationalists offers a distinctive angle on the history of religious humanitarianism.

The Power of Vision I Rodoljub Orescanin, 2018-11-21 Why do some great ideas remain just empty dreams, while others revolutionize reality? Why do some people never realize their potential, while others manage to accomplish creative wonders that move the mountains from the small seed of their ideas? What is the essential difference between dreamers and visionaries, and how can we move from one camp to another? This book offers answers to these and many other questions concerning the achievement of our desires and goals. It is a kind of map for the way to realize the creative potential that exists in each of us. If we follow the concrete steps and signposts of this map, all the chances are that we will translate our dreams into fruitful visions, with concrete and achievable results. Moreover, this journey will be an exciting adventure that changes us and brings joy and excitement that are possible only when we fulfill our life purpose.

The Global Sixties in Sound and Vision T. Brown, A. Lison, 2014-05-01 Despite the explosion of interest in the global 1960s, the arts in this period - both popular and avant-garde forms - have too often been neglected. This interdisciplinary volume brings together scholars in history, cultural studies, musicology and other areas to explore the symbiosis of the sonic and the visual in the counterculture of the 1960s.

Bell Hooks' Spiritual Vision Nadra Nittle,2023 Widely heralded as a leading feminist scholar, bell hooks also identified as a Buddhist Christian who believed that love was the antidote to oppression. In bell hooks' Spiritual Vision, Nadra Nittle traces the spirituality in hooks' writings. The book shows hooks as a feminist and a believer who knit together her political and spiritual practices.

Empires of Vision Martin Jay,Sumathi Ramaswamy,2014-01-29 Empires of Vision brings together pieces by some of the most influential scholars working at the intersection of visual culture studies and the history of European imperialism. The essays and excerpts focus on the paintings, maps, geographical surveys, postcards, photographs, and other media that comprise the visual milieu of colonization, struggles for decolonization, and the lingering effects of empire. Taken together, they demonstrate that an appreciation of the role of visual experience is necessary for understanding the functioning of hegemonic imperial power and the ways that the colonized subjects spoke, and looked, back at their imperial rulers. Empires of Vision also makes a vital point about the complexity of image culture in the modern world: We must comprehend how regimes of visibility emerged globally, not only in the metropole but also in relation to the putative margins of a world that increasingly came to question the very distinction between center and periphery. Contributors. Jordanna Bailkin, Roger Benjamin, Daniela Bleichmar, Zeynep Çelik, David Ciarlo, Natasha Eaton, Simon Gikandi, Serge Gruzinski, James L. Hevia, Martin Jay, Brian Larkin, Olu Oguibe, Ricardo Padrón, Christopher Pinney, Sumathi Ramaswamy, Benjamin Schmidt, Terry Smith, Robert Stam, Eric A. Stein, Nicholas Thomas, Krista A. Thompson

Voices of Vision Jayme Lynn Blaschke,2005-01-01 As the world around us becomes more fantastic, and science itself more surreal, the realms of science fiction and fantasy become correspondingly both more bizarre and more relevant. Voices of Vision offers a rare look into the inner workings of this realm and into the very thoughts and methods of those who make it tick: editors and writers of science fiction and fantasy, and creators of comic books and graphic novels. In wide-ranging interviews that are by turns intimate and thought provoking, irreverent and outrageous, Jayme Lynn Blaschke talks shop with some of the most interesting voices in these genres as well as the people behind them, such as current Science Fiction Weekly and former Science Fiction Age editor Scott Edelman. A host of authors talk to Blaschke about what it's like to do what they do, how they work and how they started, and where they think the genre is headed. Blaschke talks to writers such as Robin Hobb, Charles de Lint, Patricia Anthony, and Elizabeth Moon; revered authors of comic books and graphic novels, including Neil Gaiman and Brad Meltzer; and icons such as Samuel R. Delany, Gene Wolfe, Harlan Ellison, and Jack Williamson. Editors such as Gardner Dozois, editor of Asimov's Science Fiction magazine, discuss their publishing philosophies and strategies, the origins and probable directions of their magazines, and the broader influence of such ventures. For devoted reader, aspiring writer, and curious onlooker alike, these interviews open a largely hidden, endlessly engrossing world.
