📖 Webcam DANIEL MILLER, JOLYNNA SINANAN, 2014-03-12 The use of webcam, especially through Skype, has recently become established as one more standard media technology, but so far there has been no attempt to assess its fundamental nature and consequences. Yet webcam has profound implications for many facets of human life, from self-consciousness and intimacy to the sustaining of long-distance relationships and the place of the visual within social communications. Based on research in London and Trinidad, this book shows how ‘always-on’ webcam is becoming an entirely different phenomenon from the initial use of webcam as a videophone. Webcam is examined within the framework of ‘polymedia’ - that is, the new environments created by the simultaneous presence of a multiplicity of communication technologies - and used to exemplify a theory of attainment that accepts media technologies as aspects of, rather than detracting from, our basic humanity.

📖 Webcam Savvy CLARENCE JONES, 2017-02-04 If you want to succeed in that next webcam job audition or news interview, you’d better learn how to do it. To get the job - or to get your point across in a news story - you need a lot of webcam savvy. Otherwise, you wind up at the unemployment office; or on the cutting room floor at the network or local TV station. Looking self-confident, relaxed, sincere, and unrehearsed takes a lot of practice. Very few of us are born with it. You also need the right webcam, and know how to set it up. We have become so accustomed to slickly produced video, you scream amateur-beginner using the built-in camera in a laptop, shot at a strange angle, with the clutter of your bedroom and a barking dog in the background. This book will help you choose the right webcam and microphone (they’re very inexpensive); teach you how to build a simple set and place everyday lights; and how to maintain eye contact. There’s another secret in this book: successful interviews need to include -- a magic formula that will impress an employer, or guarantee you’ll be included in tonight’s TV news story. Author Clarence Jones knows what he’s writing about. He was a prize-winning TV reporter for 14 years, than an on-camera coach for government and corporate executives for 30 years. He has five other books currently in print -- one of them reviewers call the bible for news media relations.

📖 Moving Images JOHN FULLERTON, ASTRID SPÄRBERGH WIDDING, 2000-06-22 Seventeen essays examining the impact of new media on the history of cinema. In 1888, Thomas Edison announced that he was experimenting on “an instrument which does for the eye what the phonograph does for the ear, which is the recording and reproduction of things in motion.” Just as Edison’s investigations were framed in terms of the known technologies of the phonograph and the microscope, the essays in this collection address the contexts of innovation and reception that have framed the development of moving images in the last one hundred years. Three concerns are of particular interest: the contexts of innovation and reception for moving image technologies; the role of the observer, whose vision and cognitive processes define some of the limits of inquiry and epistemological insight; and the role of new media, which, engaging with the domestic sphere as cultural interface, are transforming our understanding of public and private spheres. The seventeen previously unpublished essays in Moving Images represent the best of current research in the history of this field. They make a timely and stimulating contribution to debates concerning the impact of new media on the history of cinema. Contributors include: William Boddy, Carlos Bustamante, Warren Buckland, Valeria Camporesi, Bent Fausing, Oliver Gaycken, Alison Griffiths, Christopher Hales, Jan Holmberg, Solveig Jølich, Frank Kessler, Jay Moman, Sheila C. Murphy, Pelle Snickars, Paul C. Spehr, Björn Thuresson, and Torkel Walldius.

When we couldn’t find the right gear to realize this vision, we decided to build it ourselves. We haven’t stopped building since. 📖 The Far Pavilions M. M. KAYE, 2015-12-01 This sweeping epic set in 19th-century India begins in the foothills of the towering Himalayas and follows a young Indian-born orphan as he’s raised in England and later returns to India where he falls in love with an Indian princess and struggles with cultural divides. The Far Pavilions is itself a Himalayan achievement, a book we hate to see come to an end. It is a passionate, triumphant story that excites us, fills us with joy, move us to tears, satisfies us deeply, and helps us remember just what it is we want most from a novel. M.M. Kaye’s masterwork is a vast, rich and vibrant tapestry of love and war that ranks with the greatest panoramic sagas of modern fiction, moving the famed literary critic Edmond Fuller to write: Were Miss Kaye to produce no other book, The Far Pavilions might stand as a lasting accomplishment in a single work comparable to Margaret Mitchell’s achievement in Gone With the Wind.

📖 Kabul Beauty School DEBORAH RODRIGUEZ, KRISTIN OHLSON, 2007-04-10 Soon after the fall of the Taliban, in 2001, Deborah Rodriguez went to Afghanistan as part of a group offering humanitarian aid to this war-torn nation. Surrounded by men and women whose skills—as doctors, nurses, and therapists—seemed eminently more practical than her own, Rodriguez, a hairdresser and mother of two from Michigan, despaired of being of any real use. Yet she soon found she had a gift for befriending Afghans, and once her profession became known she was eagerly sought out by Westerners desperate for a good haircut and by Afghan women, who have a long and proud tradition of running their own beauty salons. Thus an idea was born. With the help of corporate and international sponsors, the Kabul Beauty School welcomed its first class in 2003. Well meaning but sometimes brazen, Rodriguez stumbled through language barriers, overstepped cultural customs, and constantly juggled the challenges of a postwar nation even as she learned how to empower her students to become their families’ breadwinners by learning the fundamentals of coloring techniques, haircutting, and makeup. Yet within the small haven of the Beauty School, the line between teacher and student quickly blurred as these vibrant women shared with Rodriguez their stories and their hearts: the newlywed who faked her virginity on her wedding night, the twelve-year-old bride sold into marriage to pay her family’s debts, the Taliban member’s wife who pursued her training despite her husband’s constant beatings. Through these and other stories, Rodriguez found the strength to leave her own
