

The Struggle for Empire Robert William Cole,1900

Federal Insurance Guaranty Corporation, Hearings...91-1, on S. 2236. Nov. 12, 19, 20, 1969; and Feb. 10, 1970 United States. Congress. Senate. Commerce,1970

2236 Milton McGriff,2007-04-15 After decades of so-called advances in race relations in America, it's once again open season on black folks. Police shootings of unarmed black men, women, and children are up; civil rights are down and out. A major question of the day: Who will protect black Americans when the U.S. government looks the other way and makes excuses? When tragedy strikes close to home, it's a question that journalist Andy Blackman must ask himself: Where do I stand? It's a question that Minister Johnnie Black Label Walker, the leader of the militant Covenant of the New Commandment, has pondered constantly during a forty-year ministry: What would the Creator have us do? And it's a question that a mysterious group who call themselves Unit 2236 has a very definite answer for: We will protect you. 2236 delves deep into the dynamics of race relations, the role of religion in liberation, the anguish of repression, and the power of resistance. When life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness ring hollow for a people, when a government has become destructive of those ends, what should people do? What did the forefathers of this country do? 2236 is a must read for anyone who sees--and is disturbed by--the erosion of democracy in the United States and the emergence of an empire.
