War for the World Fletcher Pratt,1972

Chronicles of World War II David G. Chandler,Colin McIntyre,Michael C. Tagg,1997 Recounting the build-up to and course of some of the most momentous battles of the Second World War, this book presents a wide-ranging view of the conflict that engulfed the world. Illustrated with 350 photographs and maps of the conflict in Europe, North Africa and the Pacific, it explains the progress of the fighting, and the impact of new weapons and tactics on the war's ultimate outcome.

C-66 Weston Emery,2017-07-12 This is the story of 512 men who worked for a common goal during a period of 155 days. Few of them were together during all those days, but all of them belonged to the same group. Many were no longer there when the job was done. Some gave their lives early - Some were taken prisoner - Some were hospitalized - Some gave their lives later - Some were with the group for 155 days. This brief record of their service in World War II is dedicated to all of them. This is a remarkable record of one unit of an armored division during the last five months of the the war in Europe. It is carefully researched from official documents of the National Archives, and is laced with letters written home. This saga has been compiled by one of the enlisted men who never missed a day of duty and whose first hand view point as a company commander's combat radioman gives us a broad inside view of the company.

The Timeline of World War II David Jordan,2007 More than 60 years later, the Second World War continues to be a topic of keen interest. This comprehensive guide chronicles the war as it happened and provides details of key battles in Europe and the Pacific. The stunning artwork in The Timeline of World War II includes more than 300 images, including rare archival action photographs and full-colour original works of art. The timeline running through the text links key developments of each stage of the era, and the eight-page double-sided timeline poster profiles key events.

The War Geoffrey C. Ward,Ken Burns,2007-09-11 The vivid voices that speak from these pages are not those of historians or scholars. They are the voices of ordinary men and women who experienced—and helped to win—the most devastating war in history, in which between 50 and 60 million lives were lost. Focusing on the citizens of four towns— Luverne, Minnesota; Sacramento, California; Waterbury, Connecticut; Mobile, Alabama;—The War follows more than forty people from 1941 to 1945. Woven largely from their memories, the compelling, unflinching narrative unfolds month by bloody month, with the outcome always in doubt. All the iconic events are here, from Pearl Harbor to the liberation of the concentration camps—but we also move among prisoners of war and Japanese American internees, defense workers and schoolchildren, and families who struggled simply to stay together while their men were shipped off to Europe, the Pacific, and North Africa. Enriched by maps and hundreds of photographs, including many never published before, this is an intimate, profoundly affecting chronicle of the war that shaped our world.
