Seek On! Susan Merritt, 2018-06-13 This is the Second Edition of Seek-On A non-fiction account of a unique specialty created as a response to the ability of the enemy in Vietnam to disappear into the terrain. The Combat Tracker Team - 5 men and a Labrador retriever - were the counter-terrorist force of the late 1960s-early 1970s and they were successful in bringing justice to the elusive enemy. Surviving their tours of duty with commendable success (according to General William C. Westmoreland), these highly trained warriors were separated; their records sealed in red tape and inaccessible to them or others; unable to communicate with the rest of their teams with whom they had bonded closer than brothers. This was due to the fact that the British military had been involved with the creation and initial training of the young volunteers who were the foundation of the Combat Tracker Teams of the US Army. In the world of international treaties, Great Britain could not be involved in this conflict...and so, despite the valor and mission success that they attained, their stories could not be told. They could not get proper care in the VA system. They could not validate claims of their combat in their real specialty. They were outside of the loop...until they started the clock again in 1998 and this is their story.

Scout-Tracker Troy A. Lettieri, 2010-12-20 Tactical tracking is not new and has been a recurring tactic that has been used in every major conflict and been most prevalent in most post World War II low-intensity conflicts and has again been rejuvenated in the American military for employment in the Global War on Terrorism. More specifically it is being used successfully in Afghanistan and Iraq to hunt down insurgents and collect valuable intelligence to penetrate, isolate and eliminate insurgent cells hiding in sanctuaries or amongst the population in plain sight. This book Scout-Tracker: Operational and Training Notes of a Special Forces Combat Tracker provides a complete primer to the skills and tactics for scouting and tracking in a counter-insurgent environment. This easy to understand and employ information has been gleamed from years of tracking training under the tutelage of some of the world's most renowned combat/tactical trackers and operational combat tracking experience from around the globe. The intent of the book is to give the warrior on today's asymmetrical battlefield one more tool in the kit bag to bring the fight to an elusive enemy and give the soldier the necessary skill-set to enhance his overall survivability and combat capability.

USMC Combat Hunter Training Introduction And Fundamentals: Profiling, Tactical Tracking, Observation Theory, Tactical Fundamentals, Planning And More ,2017-12-14 COMBAT HUNTER TRAINER COURSE Purpose: The purpose of the Combat Hunter Trainer Course is to produce a Marine capable of training a more ethically minded, tactically cunning, and situational aware Marine capable of proactively identifying threats in any environment. Scope: The Combat Hunter Trainer Course enhances the safety and security of Marines across the range of military operations, whether in garrison, on liberty, or on the battlefield. Marines are trained to observe and recognize human behaviors, patterns and trends that are indicative of a threat and to act on that threat quickly and decisively through an improved and matured decision-making process. The Marine receives training in planning, conducting, and evaluating training events to include classes on small unit training and unit training management. Combat Hunter training includes Introduction to Combat Hunter, Observation Devices, Criminal and Insurgent Networks, Decision Cycle, Enhanced Observation, KIM Technique, Introduction to Profiling, Heuristics, Profiling Domains, Terrorist Planning Cycle, Tactical Questioning, Analyze and Interpret Spoor, Individual Actions in a Tracking Team, Track Exploitation, Leading a Tracking Team, and Tactical Site Exploitation.

DEFINITION AND MISSION OF THE COMBAT HUNTER. A combat hunter selects, uses, and maximizes the appropriate optics available to see objects and events, both hidden and distant. These optics range from the naked eye to advanced optical systems. A combat hunter, through attention to detail, establishes a baseline of an environment and detects the anomalies located within that environment. A combat hunter tracks humans and vehicles by reading the natural terrain. He pursues an armed enemy and gathers data that may suggest the enemy's action and intent. The combat hunter is the creation of a mindset through the integration of enhanced observation, combat profiling, and combat tracking. This mindset will enable Marines to locate, close with, and destroy an elusive enemy that hides among the population and uses asymmetric tactics to attack our forces. By utilizing enhanced observation, combat profiling, and combat tracking, a Marine is more lethal, survivable, and tactically cunning. He becomes a force multiplier to his unit's operations. OBSERVATION. Observation begins with the gathering and processing of information obtained through the senses. The five sensory systems are sight, hearing, smell, touch, and taste that allow information to be collected from the environment. Perception is the process that the mind uses to organize the sensory information into an understandable interpretation of the environment. Central to all these skills is a critically-thinking Marine whose decisions can be affected by numerous factors, both external and internal. The Marine refines his decision making capabilities by understanding the decision cycle process and his awareness of the physical and biological responses he goes through when faced with a dynamic situation. Refining these skills and understanding the effects they have on his mind and body make him more capable and more lethal.

Game Master's Battle Tracker James O'Toole,2019-12-27 The Game Master's Battle Tracker: Dungeons & Cities is designed to allow you to keep track of important stats during battles in roleplaying game sessions. It can be used with any roleplaying game system. Forget about using scrap pieces of paper to track the health of enemies during combat, or the health of the party's followers and allies. At the start of a battle fill in details of the location on the square grid map, the adversaries the party face and any stats of followers or allies with the party on the opposite page. You can prepare in advance for any encounters the party are certain to have or fill out pages as the game evolves. The book is designed to use one double-page spread for each battle. Each double-page spread has a square map grid for marking the locations of the players and their adversaries in indoor locations and a chart with columns for marking off the health of adversaries and NPCs, allies or followers. You can mark the map with your own symbols and scale as desired. Keeping track of spell durations and effects in combat is now easy with the events and effects by round tracker on every page. When a player or enemy casts a spell, drinks a potion or causes some other time-based effect like poison or paralysis, pencil in the duration in the numbered round slot. Cross off rounds as they pass, then check each new round slot for any marked events. You'll never again have trouble keeping track of complex combat scenarios with spells and special attacks flying back and forth! Check out the Battle Tracker: Wilderness for outdoor combat scenarios with hex grid map paper.
