Overcoming School Refusal Joanne Garfi,2018-01-31 School refusal affects up to 5% of children and is a complex and stressful issue for the child, their family and school. The more time a child is away from school, the more difficult it is for the child to resume normal school life. If school refusal becomes an ongoing issue it can negatively impact the child's social and educational development. Psychologist Joanne Garfi spends most of her working life assisting parents, teachers, school counsellors, caseworkers, and community policing officers on how best to deal with school refusal. Now her experiences and expertise are available in this easy-to-read practical book. Overcoming School Refusal helps readers understand this complex issue by explaining exactly what school refusal is and provides them with a range of strategies they can use to assist children in returning to school. Areas covered include: • types of school refusers • why children refuse to go to school • symptoms • short term and long term consequences • accurate assessment • treatment options • what parents can do • what schools can do • dealing with anxious high achievers • how to help children on the autism spectrum with school refusal

Whose Education For All? Birgit Brock-Utne,2002-06-01 Since 1990, when the phrase education for all was first coined at the World Bank conference in Jomtien, Thailand, a battle has raged over its meaning and its impact on education in Africa. In this thought-provoking new volume, Dr. Brock-Utne argues that education for all really means Western primary schooling for some, and none for others. Her incisive analysis demonstrates how this construct robs Africans of their indigenous knowledge and language, starves higher education in Africa, and thereby perpetuates Western dominion. In Dr. Brock-Utne's words, A quadrangle building has been erected in a village of round huts.

Alisik (complete collection) Hubertus Ruffedt,2018-07-04 p.p1 {margin: 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px; font: 12.0px Calibri} p.p2 {margin: 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px 0.0px; font: 12.0px Calibri; min-height: 14.0px} Alisik awakes in a cemetery. Frightened, she tries to flee only to discover that nobody can see her, touch her, or help her... Alisik is dead. Worse, she is trapped between worlds, between hell and paradise, awaiting a judgement which is slow to come. "A sad and sweet allegory for teenage isolation, Alisik has the look of a Tim Burton fable, but a strange morality that's all its own." - Edie Nugent, The Comics Beat "A charmingly beautiful foray into the afterlife... a mixture of Tim Burton, Stephen Gammell, Wang Zhijie, and Mark Ryden." - Jonathan Barkan, Dread Central

Bad Luck, Hot Rocks Ryan Thompson,Phil Orr,2014-11-30 The story of the curse made famous by the hit show Dead to Me The Petrified Forest National Park in Northeast Arizona protects one of the largest deposits of petrified wood in the world. Despite stern warnings, visitors remove several tons of petrified wood from the park each year, often returning these rocks by mail (sometimes years later), accompanied by a conscience letter. These letters often include stories of misfortune attributed directly to their theft: car troubles, cats with cancer, deaths of family members, etc. Some writers hope that by returning these stolen rocks, good fortune will return to their lives, while others simply apologize or ask forgiveness. They are beautiful, reads one letter, but I can't enjoy them. They weigh like a ton of bricks on my conscience. Sorry.... Bad Luck, Hot Rocksdocuments this ongoing phenomenon, combining a series of original photographs of these otherworldly bad luck rocks with facsimiles of intimate, oddly entertaining letters from the park's archives.

Beyond the Blue Border Dorit Linke,2021-09-07 Hanna and Andreas will do anything to leave oppressive East Germany behind. There's one escape route open to them, but can they survive it? Hanna and Andreas have always been friends. When they're expelled from school for activism directly challenging the socialist state in East Germany, they end up doing factory work. But what kind of life do they have to look forward to without education or opportunity? Especially when they aren't allowed a voice? The choice to risk imprisonment or death by escaping to the democratic West seems like a risk worth taking. They set out to swim twenty-five hours across the choppy waters of the Baltic Sea. Linke's storytelling achieves a delicate balance between heightened moments of danger--searchlights, jellyfish, a Russian helicopter, a violent summer storm--and the monotony, ineffable fatigue, physical pain, cramping, fear, and hope that fill the rest of the journey. A memorable tale of two people risking all for a chance at freedom.

Climate Change in Cities Sara Hughes,Eric K. Chu,Susan G. Mason,2017-09-27 This book presents pioneering work on a range of innovative practices, experiments, and ideas that are becoming an integral part of urban climate change governance in the 21st century. Theoretically, the book builds on nearly two decades of scholarships identifying the emergence of new urban actors, spaces and political dynamics in response to climate change priorities. However, it further articulates and applies the concepts associated with urban climate change governance by bridging formerly disparate disciplines and approaches. Empirically, the chapters investigate new multi-level urban governance arrangements from around the world, and leverage the insights they provide for both theory and practice. Cities - both as political and material entities - are increasingly playing a critical role in shaping the trajectory and impacts of climate change action. However, their policy, planning, and governance responses to climate change are fraught with tension and contradictions. While on one hand local actors play a central role in designing institutions, infrastructures, and behaviors that drive decarbonization and adaptation to changing climatic conditions, their options and incentives are inextricably enmeshed within broader political and economic processes. Resolving these tensions and contradictions is likely to require innovative and multi-level approaches to governing climate change in the city: new interactions, new political actors, new ways of coordinating and mobilizing resources, and new frameworks and technical capacities for decision making. We focus explicitly on those innovations that produce new relationships between levels of government, between government and citizens, and among governments, the private sector, and transnational and civil society actors. A more comprehensive understanding is needed of the innovative approaches being used to navigate the complex networks and relationships that constitute contemporary multi-level urban climate change governance. Debra Roberts, Co-Chair, Working Group II, IPCC 6th Assessment Report (AR6) and Acting Head, Sustainable and Resilient City Initiatives, Durban, South Africa "Climate Change in Cities offers a refreshingly frank view of how complex cities and city processes really are." Christopher Gore, Associate Professor and Chair, Department of Politics and Public Administration, Ryerson University, Canada "This book is a rare and welcome contribution engaging critically with questions about cities as central actors in multilevel climate governance but it does so recognizing that there are lessons from cities in both the Global North and South." Harriet Bulkeley, Professor of Geography, Durham University, United Kingdom "This timely collection provides new insights into how cities can put their rhetoric into action on the ground and explores just how this promise can be realised in cities across the world - from California to Canada, India to Indonesia."

Bella und das Biest A. Zavarelli,2021-09-09 Es war einmal vor langer, langer Zeit, da glaubte ich an Märchen. Aber dann nahm er mich. Und er lehrte mich, dass das Leben kein Märchen ist. Er ist vernarbt. Gebrochen. Ein dunkles und wildes Ding. Seine Schönheit ist brutal, und seine Worte sind grausam. Sein Herz ist eine schattige Landschaft, in der nichts wachsen kann. Er sagt mir, er könnte nie etwas für mich empfinden, und er beweist es jeden Tag. Er hat mein Leben zerstört. Mich gefoltert. Und schlimmer noch ... Er hat mir antrainiert, um seine Zuneigung zu betteln. Dieses Gefängnis ist ein Ort, den das Sonnenlicht nicht erreicht. Er lehrte mich, dass Hass in der Dunkelheit geboren wird. Und dann lehrte er mich, dass Liebe das manchmal auch wird.
