Classic Liverpool Derby Games Ian Welch,2013-08-28 The deep-seated intensity between Liverpool and Everton dates back to 1892, when a dispute in the ranks at Everton led to them moving the short distance across Stanley Park to set up home at Goodison, whilst a new club - Liverpool FC - was formed to play games at Anfield. Since then both clubs have enjoyed sustained periods of success, with managers such as Bill Shankly, Bob Paisley, Harry Catterick and Howard Kendall all leading the charge to fill their respective trophy cabinets. This book tells the story of the Merseyside derby with full statistics that will end any arguments among opposing fans.

Looking for the Toffees Brian Viner,2014-08-14 In 1977-78, Brian Viner was a season ticket-holder in the Gwladys Street End at Goodison Park, home to his beloved Everton. In front of him were the stars of the day: striker Bob Latchford, creative midfielder Duncan McKenzie and goalkeeping hero George Wood. There were no airs and graces then: Viner would regularly see Latchford in the local pub, and even once saw Wood mowing the field at his school, so asked him to come and join his classmates for a kickabout, which he did. It would never happen now. But as well as nostalgia for that period, Viner reveals how this was a time when so much was on the cusp of change: in football the first wave of foreign players would arrive the next season, with Ossie Ardiles and Arnold Muhren among them; on Merseyside, the era of punk would soon give way to Thatcherism; and even Viner himself, at 16, was on the verge of adulthood. But little of what happened next could ever have been predicted. Viner's investigation of that year in the 1970s, based on many interviews with the players of the time, not only reveals a vanished era, but also shows how football often fails to look after its own, as the life stories of what happened to the players afterwards shows, but how the spirit of the sport will always shine through.
