SI VIS PACEM, PARA UTIQUE PACEM Willem Th. Oosterveld, Stephan de Spiegeleire, Marjolein de Ridder, Tim Sweijs, Frank Bekkers, Dana Poláčková, Scott Ward, Kamal Eldin Salah, Rik Rutten, Nathalie Olah, 2015-12-17 Analyses of the international security environment typically provide somber overviews of the various drivers and manifestations of conflict and instability around the world. Recent developments such as the terrorist attacks in Paris, Beirut and elsewhere, a Middle East in flames, a resurgent Russia, incessant violence in

West Africa or turmoil in South China Sea only reinforce this view. By framing our analysis of the security environment in these terms, debates about how to anticipate and respond to these current and future threats invariably focus on those forces of instability and conflict: how to identify threats and enemies and then eliminate them. This report is based on the premise that this conflict-centric mindset has led to portfolio choices in terms of strategies ('what do we do and how do we do it?'), capabilities ('what do we do it with?'), and partners ('who do we do it with?') that have been excessively onesided. This report argues that there is an alternative, complementary way of framing security that is equally real and equally actionable for defense and security organizations (DSOs4): a resilience-centric one.
