Pop Empires S. Heijin Lee,Monika Mehta,Robert Ji-Song Ku,2019-07-31 At the start of the twenty-first century challenges to the global hegemony of U.S. culture are more apparent than ever. Two of the contenders vying for the hearts, minds, bandwidths, and pocketbooks of the world's consumers of culture (principally, popular culture) are India and South Korea. "Bollywood" and "Hallyu" are increasingly competing with "Hollywood"—either replacing it or filling a void in places where it never held sway. This critical multidisciplinary anthology places the mediascapes of India (the site of Bollywood), South Korea (fountainhead of Hallyu, aka the Korean Wave), and the United States (the site of Hollywood) in comparative dialogue to explore the transnational flows of technology, capital, and labor. It asks what sorts of political and economic shifts have occurred to make India and South Korea important alternative nodes of techno-cultural production, consumption, and contestation. By adopting comparative perspectives and mobile methodologies and linking popular culture to the industries that produce it as well as the industries it supports, Pop Empires connects films, music, television serials, stardom, and fandom to nation-building, diasporic identity formation, and transnational capital and labor. Additionally, via the juxtaposition of Bollywood and Hallyu, as not only synecdoches of national affiliation but also discursive case studies, the contributors examine how popular culture intersects with race, gender, and empire in relation to the global movement of peoples, goods, and ideas.

Hassaniya Arabic (Mali) Jeffrey Heath,2003 In most countries of the Maghreb, the local Arabic vernaculars are increasingly inundated by vocabulary, grammatical forms, and even syntax from literary Arabic (used in mosques, schools, and media), and oral poetry is receding except for popular song genres. The Arabs of the TimbuktuGao region, by contrast, are a peripheral linguistic minority with little exposure to literary Arabic. They continue to speak a relatively pure beduin Arabic, closely related to varieties spoken in Mauritania and southern Algeria. These texts, recorded in 1986-1989 and presented here in transcription along with facing English translations, document this language, as well as the remarkable verbal culture of these people. The ethnographic texts cover such topics as the annual salt caravans from Timbuktu to Taoudenni, the perils of the pastoral life, and adjustments to city life. The poetic texts include recitations of locally familiar poems, typically integrated into narratives or otherwise contextualized. The poems, consisting of quatrains (gaf) and more extended poems (tal'a), are often satirical or even bawdy in nature.Jeffrey Heath is Professor of Linguistics and Near Eastern Studies at the University of Michigan. He is the author of many fieldworkbased works, including grammars, dictionaries, and text collections on languages of Australia and on Songhay languages of West Africa.

The Cultural Industries of India Rohit K. Dasgupta,Clelia Clini,2024-05-14 The Cultural Industries of India is the first book length study dedicated to the Indian cultural and creative industries. By covering specific aspects of the cultural and creative sectors in India– from film festivals to music and performing arts, from cinema to tourism, including a policy review on innovation in the creative industries – the various chapters offer a comprehensive overview of the relationship between the cultural and creative industries and the wider economic, social, cultural and political processes taking place within India and its diaspora. The study of cultural and creative industries in India is important not only for their potential for economic growth and its knock-on effect on social and cultural development, but also because their analysis reveal the ways in which cultural production shapes politics and identities, income generation and urban renewal. This volume focuses on questions of structural inequalities within the sector at the local level, and to account for asymmetries in economic power and the possibility to circulate and access symbolic content within and beyond the boundaries of the Indian nation. This book will be an essential read for scholars and researchers of creative and cultural studies, economics, history, development studies and media studies in India. The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Cultural Trends.

Music, Modernity, and Publicness in India Tejaswi Niranjana, 2020-02-14 With the onset of modernity in twentieth-century India, new social arrangements gave rise to new forms of music-making. The musicians were no longer performing exclusively in the princely courts or in the private homes of the wealthy. Not only did the act of listening to and appreciating music change, it became an important feature of public life, thus influencing how modernity shaped itself. This volume attempts to study the connections between music and the creation of new ideas of publicness during the early twentieth century. How was music labelled as folk or classical? How did music come to play such a catalytic role in forming identities of nationhood, politics, or ethnicity? And how did twentieth-century technologies of sound reproduction and commercial marketing contribute to changing notions of cultural distinction? Exploring these interdisciplinary questions across multiple languages, regions, and musical genres, the essays provide fresh perspectives on the history of musicians and migration in colonial India, the formation of modern spaces of performance, and the articulation of national as well as nationalist traditions.

SAMVED Dr. Rekha Vyas, 2013-07-25 Samved Samved is said to be complement of Rigved, therefore its importance cannot be less than that of Rigved. That is the reason it is one of the three Vedas (i.e. Rig, Yajur, and Samved). In Gita, preacher Krishna has indicated towards the speciality of Samved by saying 'I am Samved among the Vedas'. The present translation of Samved is based on Sayan's annotation/commentary because Sayan took complete help of traditional knowledge, logic and contemplation to understand the Vedic hymns. Moreover, he has not commented the hymns of Samved like other commentators' coloured views of any 'special doctrine'. He had elucidated only human related meanings according to the hymns.

Do Din Ka Mela - Bhajans for the Soul RD Ramsamooj, 2023-02-16 Do Din Ka Mela - Bhajans for the Soul - are devotional songs about the journey of life. These familiar Hindi lyrics were transliterated into English. They include those of Kabirdas and Meerabai that are often heard in the voices of Hari Om and Nandini Sharan, Jagjit and Chitra Singh, and Anup and Purshottam Das Jalota. Kavi Pradeep's small but unique body of work is filled with heart-wrenching lyrics. His style of music and the purity of his vocals creates uneasiness in our minds. One is overwhelmed by the desire to forgive, forget, and unite with each other. Equally divine are the bhajans by singers such as Anuradha Paudwal, Asha Bhosle, Lata Mangeshkar, Sulakshana Pandit, Mahendra Kapoor, Mohammed Rafi, Mukesh, and Talat Mahmood. By singing or listening to these soulful bhajans, a sense of meaning can be ignited in our lives, thus increasing our spiritual closeness and connectedness with each other, and most importantly God.
