Lost in the Fog: Memoir of a Bastard Rachel Van Meers,Daniel Chase,2008-07-01 The courageous story of Van Meers, born in a home for unwed mothers in Ghent, Belgium, 1930. It is told in her own words in a frank, humorous and down-to-earth manner. She grew up as a bastard during the Great Depression, and sees her family and country torn apart by prejudice and politics in World War II, and recounts how she struggles to redefine herself in turbulent postwar Europe. Based on hundreds of hours of taped interviews, Rachel's view of a family not-quite-normal, her amazing strength in the face of abusive and degrading treatment, and her strong faith and upbeat attitude make her story a joy and inspiration to read.

Memoirs of Leopold I, King of the Belgians Théodore Juste,1868

Flora Flora M. Singer,2007 Memoirs of Singer, born in 1930 in Antwerp to the Mendelovits family from Romania. Her father left for the U.S. in 1938; in 1940 she, her mother, and her two younger sisters experienced the Nazi occupation. They moved to Brussels to avoid deportation and were helped by several non-Jews, especially George Ranson, who provided work for the mother and a hiding place for the family in Brussels, and Father Bruno Reynders, who arranged for Flora to be hidden in three different convents in the area, along with her sisters and eventually her mother. They survived the war and were finally reunited with their husband and father in the USA. Singer later became active in survivor groups and in teaching about the Holocaust.

Antwerp to Gallipoli Arthur Ruhl,Arthur Arthur Brown Ruhl,2023-07-18 This book is a personal memoir of Arthur Ruhl's experiences as a war correspondent during World War I. Ruhl covered the war from the Western Front to the Gallipoli campaign, and his writing provides a unique perspective on the war from a civilian journalist's point of view. This memoir is a valuable historical document and an engaging personal narrative. This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important, and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it. This work is in the public domain in the United States of America, and possibly other nations. Within the United States, you may freely copy and distribute this work, as no entity (individual or corporate) has a copyright on the body of the work. Scholars believe, and we concur, that this work is important enough to be preserved, reproduced, and made generally available to the public. We appreciate your support of the preservation process, and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant.

Hidden from the Sun Jenny Kalsner,2013-04 Jenny Kalsner tells her story with the voice of a young child coupled with the reflections of an adult. Her memoir is clearly distinct from that of Anne Frank, in that she was only six when entering hiding. Jenny's limitations in hiding from the Nazis were greater than Anne's, but they helped her survive. This special story, told in powerful language, explores the stages of renewed self confidence and maturation that led Jenny to a life of fulfillment and satisfaction. Her early experiences are retold with artistic sensitivity and wisdom. Poetically written, with emotion on every page, the reader is taken from laughter to tears . . . a remarkable book it should be required reading. Ellen Belitsky, author of Perchance to Feast

The Endless Wait Joseph Peretz,1996 Memoirs of a Belgian Jew born in 1921 in Antwerp. In 1940 Peretz was drafted into the Belgian Army, but his service did not last long. After a failed attempt to remain in France, he returned to Antwerp, and in June 1942 was deported to the labor camp of Les Mazures, near Revin in France, close to the Belgian border. In winter 1943 Peretz managed to escape from the camp; he lived on false papers in Roubaix-Tourcoing, where, helped by friendly Frenchmen, he survived until the city's liberation by the British.

Holocaust Survival in Antwerp Alter Kleiman,2023-02-06 The informal cooperation and collaboration of Christians with the Jewish underground emerges as a key element in this new translation of Alter Kleiman's memoir Holocaust Survival in Antwerp: On Foreign Soil.

Memoirs from Elsinore Franz Hellens,2000 This is the first English publication of a major work by one of Belgium's greatest writers - Franz Hellens. As a prime example of his «fantastic realism, » this novel takes its narrator-hero, Théophile, through a series of adventures that range from the touchingly down-to-earth to the extravagantly bizarre. With its rich multiplicity of character and incident, as well as a narrative that surprises the reader at every turn, this book is an ideal introduction to a unique, and too long neglected, voice in twentieth-century literature.

Never to be Forgotten Beatrice Muchman,1997 As a child whose family fled Nazi Germany to occupied Belgium and later entrusted her care to a Catholic woman, the author was too young to understand her parents' motives. As Muchman (now a teacher in Illinois) shares in this healing memoir, not until adulthood did she finally learn the true nature of this perceived abandonment--from documents inherited from the American uncle who adopted her after her parents were killed. Antwerp (New Directions Pearls) Roberto Bolaño,2012-05-23 Bolaño's radical first novel makes its paperback debut as a New Directions Pearl.

Mazel Tov J. S. Margot, 2021-02-23 A heartwarming, funny and provocative memoir of a woman navigating clashing cultures during her decades-long friendship with an Orthodox Jewish family, new in paperback When 20-year-old student J. S. Margot took a tutoring job in 1987, little did she know it would open up an entire world. In the family's Orthodox Jewish household she would encounter endless rules - 'never come on a Friday, never shake hands with a man' - and quirks she had not seen before: tiny tubes on the doorposts, separate fridges for meat and dairy products. Her initial response was puzzlement and occasionally anger, but as she taught the children and fiercely debated with the family, she also began to learn from them. Full of funny misunderstandings and unexpected connections, Mazel Tov is a heartwarming, provocative and disarmingly honest memoir of clashing cultures and unusual friendships - and of how, where adults build walls, sometimes only children can dissolve them.

The Quest for Freedom Yvonne de Ridder Files, 1991-12-01 The story of a true heroine of WWII, a young woman who risked her life fighting the Nazis during the war.

A Surgeon in Belgium H. S. Souttar, 2015-06-25 Excerpt from A Surgeon in Belgium To write the true story of three months work in a hospital is a task before which the boldest man might quail. Let my very dear friends of the Belgian Field Hospital breathe again, for I have attempted nothing of the sort. I would sooner throw aside my last claim to self-respect, and write my autobiography. It would at least be safer. But there were events which happened around us, there was an atmosphere in which we lived, so different from those of our lives at home that one felt compelled to try to picture them before they merged into the shadowy memories of the past. And this is all that I have attempted. To all who worked with me through those months I owe a deep debt of gratitude. That they would do everything in their power to make the hospital a success went without saying, but it was quite another matter that they should all have conspired to make the time for me one of the happiest upon which I shall ever look back.
