1001 Things To Do Celeste Payne,2020-02-12 Have you ever been away from home or your office and got a phone call or maybe remembered something you need to do? Are you a busy person sometimes overwhelmed with tasks and need a way to track them? Have you ever written something you need to do down on a piece of paper, a napkin or in a multipurpose notebook only to lose it? Or even worse, not written it down at all. I know I have. I have received calls from clients, things to do from my kid's school, reminders from my spouse and I did not have a designated space to record the information or recall it at a future time, hence, 1001 Things to Do: The Super-Duper Portable To-Do List for Busy People on the Move. This book was not designed to replace your electronic devices, (because I love my cell phone) but rather to be a quick place to jot down things you need to do in an orderly fashion, so you don't forget. Whether you are a busy mom, a student or a business owner, or a career woman, this book is for you. Each page has space for you to write your task details. Once you complete your task check it off. You can conquer the 1001 Things that come your way and using this book is your first step.

The Portable Mentor Frederick A. Lindley, 2003-05-30 Intended for the beginning principal and the principal's mentor, this book explores the duties in the principal's first year on the job from the viewpoint of both the principal and the mentor. It emphasizes organization during the first-year principalship; tasks to be accomplished each month; leading versus managing and how both can benefit the school; communication and working with people; and defining the mentoring relationship. The book is organized into four parts. Part I, Defining the Job, focuses on the importance of developing a conceptual model of the principalship. This part includes information about the ISLLC Standards, which are used as a conceptual module of the principalship. Part II, Doing the Job, provides a chronological listing of tasks that principals encounter during the course of the school year. The chronological perspective presents a traditional 9-month school year. Part III, Deciphering the Job, presents a list of generalized conclusions and lessons learned with broad-based application to the challenges of being a school leader. Part IV, Mentoring the Mentor, addresses issues that first-time principal mentors need to consider. The book contains many useful checklists, sample forms, rubrics, and activities. (WFA).

Organizing Paper @ Home: What to Toss and How to Find the Rest Barbara Hemphill, 2011-11 Why can't I ever find the papers I need? Did I save that on the computer or is it in my file? Sound familiar? Despite all our technology, paper is still the No. 1 challenge in households nationwide. It covers desks and the kitchen counter, gets stuffed into file drawers and now, saved in electronic form on the computer. Instead of solving our problems, computers and smartphones have created another realm of disorganization, with files and systems of their own to mix in with the paper. From the home office to the kitchen counter, Barbara Hemphill offers a step-by-step solution to purging, sorting and taming that paper (AND electronic) tiger. Her practical solutions will help you manage every piece of paper or e-mail that comes into your house. She'll teach you how to make decisions about what to keep and where to keep and most importantly, how to find WHAT you need WHEN you need it!

Time Management Ninja Craig Jarrow, 2019-09-15 "This book will help you own your calendar, block time for what matters most and reclaim your life." —Paula Rizzo, author of Listful Living: A List-Making Journey to a Less Stressed You You want more time to spend with family, to achieve big goals, and to simply enjoy life. Yet, there seem to be more and more things competing for your time, and more distractions interrupting your day. Craig Jarrow has spent many years testing time management tactics, tools, and systems and written hundreds of articles on productivity, goals, and organization. Through it all he's learned a simple truth: Time management should be easy, not complicated and unwieldy. And it shouldn't take up more of your precious time than it gives back! Time Management Ninja offers 21 rules that will show you an easier and more effective way to take control of your time and manage your busy life. Follow these simple principles and get more done with less effort. It's no-stress, uncomplicated time management that works. "Read this book, apply its rules, and you'll find freedom." —Hyrum Smith, bestselling author of Purposeful Retirement
