Facebook for Small Business, 2011 Webpages are so yesterday! If you really want your business to succeed you need to get it social. If you're sitting there thinking, "MySpace here I come!" then you really need this book; if you already know that Facebook is on your business' to do list, then this book will also come in handy. Before you start thinking "Hey, my mom's on Facebook...maybe she can be in charge of this project" you should be forewarned—Facebook for Business' is not yo mama's Facebook; sure your mom can whip up a page by a few clicks, but if you want to stand out from the rest, then you will have to do something a little more challenging: coding (this is only if your mom isn't up to date like the rest of our moms. If your mom is a coding queen, then why are you reading this again?). Don't worry! We aren't talking Matthew Broderick hunkered down in front of a computer trying to stop a nuclear war type of coding—this coding is so simple your mom might very well be able to do it...just don't tell her that, because, trust us, you really don't want your mom in charge of the social aspect of your business; Gadchick was about to hand over the powers of social media to her mama until her mama said, "I can't wait to share baby photos of you trying to get milk out of the puppy!" This book is really about the dirty secret programmers don't want you to know about: you can do it yourself! We'll walk you through the steps, and promise to be gentle—we will bite, but we have no teeth, so it will feel more like a massage. We'll tell you about iFrames, FBML, and how to set up a Facebook ad campaign for your business.

Facebook Marketing Jack Sanchez, 2018-11-13 According to statistics, Facebook is home to over 1.5 billion active, unique monthly users, and generates a whopping 400 million visits every day. So, it goes without saying that Facebook, aside from being a virtual space for friends to connect, also shines with the promise of being the single most effective vehicle for businesses aiming to reach a wider audience. And for most businesses today, Facebook has served as just that. Back in November of 2007, Zuckerberg saw Facebook's potential as the ultimate internet go-to for people who want to find local businesses and products they might be interested in. Since then, the company has executed a variety of functions that cater specifically to businesses to help them maximize the gains of using Facebook as a platform to connect with real prospects without having to go out and find them. These days, any business that can't be found on Facebook is considered obsolete and outdated. With 90% of consumers looking first to Facebook in search of products and services, business that operate exclusively outside of the platform risk losing visibility in the midst of thick competition. Plus, people feel more comfortable transacting with businesses through Facebook. It's convenient, it's easy, and it's familiar, and studies have found that prospects that reach out to businesses on Facebook tend to feel more secure knowing they're dealing with an entity that they can trust. Why? Well, it's not entirely clear why Facebook brings an air of familiarity and reliability, but many experts believe it's because the platform is used to connect with friends.
