Zen: Zest, Zip, Zap and Zing Osho, 2023-06-30 Zen is not a religion, it is living life in its totality, herenow. Religions are always postponing life: they are giving you beautiful illusions about life somewhere in the future, far away, beyond death. That is a strategy to divert and distract you from the realities of life. That is pure cowardice. It is also a rationalization so that you can be consoled: 'If life is miserable today there is nothing to be worried about, tomorrow everything is going to be well. In fact, to suffer life today is a preparation for enjoying life tomorrow, so the more you suffer the better. There is no reason to complain, no reason to rebel, no reason to revolt against all those things which are causing misery.'

Applied Cryptography and Network Security Markus Jakobsson, Moti Yung, Jianying Zhou, 2004-05-17 The second International Conference on Applied Cryptography and Network Security (ACNS 2004) was sponsored and organized by ICISA (the International Communications and Information Security Association). It was held in Yellow Mountain, China, June 8-11, 2004. The conference proceedings, representing papers from the academic track, are published in this volume of the Lecture Notes in Computer Science (LNCS) of Springer-Verlag. The area of research that ACNS covers has been gaining importance in recent years due to the development of the Internet, which, in turn, implies global exposure of computing resources. Many fields of research were covered by the program of this track, presented in this proceedings volume. We feel that the papers herein indeed reflect the state of the art in security and cryptography research, worldwide. The program committee of the conference received a total of 297 submissions from all over the world, of which 36 submissions were selected for presentation during the academic track. In addition to this track, the conference also hosted a technical/industrial track of presentations that were carefully selected as well. All submissions were reviewed by experts in the relevant areas.

Occasionally J. D. Evans,2009-08 Occasionally is a selection of poems from New Jersey writer J.D. Evans. Appearing throughout the 1980s in the Press of Atlantic City and often accompanied by illustrations, these poems were at times whimsical, wistful, and wise. Covering such topics as gypsy moths, Pac-Man, Halley's comet, Reagonomics, fatherhood, cold nights, children, mortality, Mother's Day, the Mob, Miss America, Monopoly, and taxes, these poems show something of the soul of the 1980s, and of their author - whose identity is revealed for the first time in this book. About the author: J.D. Evans, a pseudonym, is a New Jersey writer whose poetry is collected into an anthology ... occasionally. About the editor: Jason Murk, a pseudonym, is the author of occasional books about clouds & tadpoles & spaceships & India.

So You Want to Be a Scriptwriter and Make a Million Dollars Irving Stanton Elman,2000 This book was written to fill a need, when I started teaching script writing at Santa Monica College and my students asked me to name a book on the subject I could recommend. After voluminous reading, I could find nothing which was completely satisfactory. Most of it seemed to have been written by people who had never written professionally for films and/or television, and thus had no first-hand knowledge of it from personal experience. The books were written from hearsay and observation, like trying to learn how to swim by standing at the edge of a pool and watching others do it, without ever getting into the water yourself. Or trying to fly by flapping your arms like a bird. It doesn't work. They have no hands-on (or wings-on) concept of how commercially produceable scripts are actually put together, and then marketed; and are of no real practical help to the beginning writer, or anyone else who's interested. Only a swimmer, or a bird, or a writer who has made his living at it, really knows how his special trick is done and can pass it on to others. And so here it is. Enjoy while you learn. Because if writing isn't fun, it's no way to make a living. Rob banks instead (but try not to get caught).

Collision Course Jason Henderson, 2016-08-01 Mary Decker's clash with Zola Budd at the 1984 Los Angeles Games is one of the biggest and most controversial events in Olympic history. In a head-to-head that gripped the imagination of the world, the 3000 metres race pitted the experienced and glamorous world champion from the host nation against a prodigious, teenage waif from South Africa wearing a hastily-organised British flag on her vest and, memorably, no shoes on her feet. Disastrously, a mid-race collision saw Decker tumble to the inside of the track after her legs tangled with Budd's as the 18-year-old overtook the American in a battle for pole position. Distraught and unable to carry on, the tearful Decker watched in frustration as Maricica Puica of Romania stormed to gold while Budd, who was heavily booed by the partisan crowd in the closing stages, faded to seventh. Using the famous Olympic moment as its focal point, Collision Course tells the story of two of the best-known and greatest athletes of all time, analyses their place in history as pioneers of women's sport, and lifts the lid on two lives that have been filled with sporting and political intrigue that, until now, has never been fully told.

Thinking up a Hurricane Martinique Stilwell, 2012-09-28 In the spring of 1977 Frank Stilwell launched Vingila, 17 tons of welded together 11-millimetre steel plates, in Durban harbour. An electrician by trade, Frank's experience of sailing amounted to not very much - an unpleasant spell on a Scottish fishing trawler as a young man and a brief holiday on someone else's yacht off the coast of Mozambique a couple of years before. Never one to be daunted by a challenge or to be resisted in any way, he took his nine year old twins, Robert and Nicky, out of school, persuaded his wife Maureen that they would all learn how to sail and cope with life on the open seas as they went, and prepared to follow his dream of circumnavigating the world. Facing real danger from the elements and at first having to live more by their wits than their skills, the Stilwell family set off boldly, determined to become part of a community of sailors and adventurers who spend more time on the ocean than they do on dry land. In this unique coming of age memoir Martinique Stilwell's recounting of her true life gypsy childhood is poignant and funny and heartbreaking all at the same time. With the wisdom and innocence of a child's point of view, it is a powerful yet tender story of physical and emotional adversity, of family dysfunction and the ties that bind, and of the shackles and exhilarating freedom of growing up different.

Information Security and Cryptology Chunpeng Ge, Moti Yung, 2024 The two-volume set LNCS 14526 and 14527 constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 19th International Conference on Information Security and Cryptology, Inscrypt 2023, held in Hangzhou, China, during December 9–10, 2023. Self Portraits: Fictions Frederic Tuten, 2010-09-13 “An amazing, glittering, glowing, Proustian, Conradian, Borgesian, diamond-faceted, language-studded, myth-drowned Dream!”—Cynthia Ozick These mysterious, interrelated stories create a portrait of the author’s life, both real and imagined, as he appears in each tale variously as hero, bystander, artist, and ghost, yielding an enchanting autobiography of the imagination. Fantasy and reality collide as the book’s principal characters—two lovers—meet, part, and reunite, time and again, at different stages in life and in landscapes both familiar and exotic. Death appears as a genial waiter in a café across from the Metropolitan Museum of Art; talking circus elephants console a ringmaster for his unrequited love; a young boy barter with pirates for his grandmother's soul; and as a refrigerator begins spilling mini-glaciers into a couple's East Village apartment, a voyage to Antarctica commences on an icy schooner waiting for them in Tompkins Square Park. Love, and its mystery, is at the core of these self portraits, but love also for art, for adventure, and for the passion of being alive.

The Phantom's Fang-tastic Show Wes Magee, 2000 The Phantom says 'Roll up! Roll up for spectres! Roll up for Apparitions! Come in and see the Gremlins- all sizes, shapes and conditions. Roll up for my Fangtastic Show! Be quick, we're starting in a mo. Take your places...if you dare' This is a collection of original spooky poems written by Wes Magee, a noted children's poet whose poems can be found in many children's anthologies. He lives in Rosedale Abbey, Yorkshire. The poems are illustrated with a great sense of humour by Leo Broadley, who teaches illustration at the University of Derby. This is his first book.

Endangered Eliot Schrefer, 2012-10-01 From National Book Award Finalist Eliot Schrefer comes the compelling tale of a girl who must save a group of bonobos -- and herself -- from a violent coup. Congo is a dangerous place, even for people who are trying to do good. When Sophie has to visit her mother at her sanctuary for bonobos, she's not thrilled to be there. Then Otto, an infant bonobo, comes into her life, and for the first time she feels responsible for another creature. But peace does not last long for Sophie and Otto. When an armed revolution breaks out in the country, the sanctuary is attacked, and the two of them must escape unprepared into the jungle. Caught in the crosshairs of a lethal conflict, they must struggle to keep safe, to eat, and to live. In ENDANGERED, Eliot Schrefer plunges us into a heart-stopping exploration of the things we do to survive, the sacrifices we make to help others, and the tangled geography that ties us all, human and animal, together.

Master Defenders 4 Matt Bhanks, 2018-11-24 As individuals we are nothing, but together we are powerful. All of the humans and moral Pixalians who survived the Second Star-Pix Crisis continue to appreciate the greatest alliance of heroes in the world. Now that peace between the species has become a nationwide law, Canavin and the masters are back in action. A distress call from the CEO of an independent weapons corporation forces the defending alliance to a classified location. They are informed about a group of scoundrels who are fixated on finding a primeval relic that could bring about the rise of an extremely noteworthy Pixalian race. Canavin sees that he lacks the knowledge of the Pixalian race he thought he knew so much about. As he is in search for answers, he arrives in the midst of an armoured woman who has caused global turmoil, bringing back hate and revulsion between the two species. And when the defenders return from an Egyptian environment, they now must witness the repercussions of a vast invasion of the devastating race. A divide of humans and Pixalians is in effect, and everyone is cautious when they learn about a sapient ruler with powers unheard of, leaving Canavin with choices that determine the future of his alliance and the entire world of anarchy.
