How to Play Ice Hockey (Classic Reprint) Arthur Farrell,2017-12-11 Excerpt from How to Play Ice Hockey To trace back the sport to its very birth is not within the province of this little work; besides, its earliest history seems lost in a background of Egyptian darkness. The Game of Ring Hockey (Classic Reprint) J. Martin Voorhees,2017-10-26 Excerpt from The Game of Ring Hockey Voorhees of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, New York, in 1899. The possibility was first suggested by a rubber tire that had been separated from an iron dumb - bell which had been left in the gymnasium. The pratt'institute High School class of then freshmen, saw the ring and, having wands in their hands preparatory to falling in for drill, began to pass said ring about the floor; The game was played in a desultory manner until, 1902, when Dr. Voorhees figured out a ring with an inner bevel and a stick with a convex playing end, to correspond with the bevel in the ring, so as to limit the possibility of lifting the ring. Inter-class tournaments were arranged and played, creating very much interest and enthusiasm. One must be quick of eye to follow the ring, and quick and accurate of motion to place the end of the stick in the three inch opening of the ring as it is speeding across the floor. The possibility for the exercise of judgment and the chance for team work are unlimited. When the game can be played in a room, say forty by sixty feet, or of approximate proportions, and the side walls are used for boundaries a great deal is added to the game by the possibility of carom shots; goals being made by the ring having been shot against the wall at an angle that the rebound would carry it between the goal posts. Caroms may also be made from the side of the foot placed solidly on the floor in the line of direction of the ring. A room of this kind is also conducive'to a continuous game because there is no out of bounds. When playing in such a room the goal posts must be placed at least four feet from the end walls and the backward feet connected by a white line to be the goal line. Tourney Time: Stories from the Minnesota Boys State Hockey Tournament David La Vaque,L. R. Nelson,2024-02-20 Eight decades of big names and memorable games--chronicling the highs and lows, the memories, and the legends from the Minnesota boys' state high school tournament--fully revised and updated with all the action through the 2023 tournament. Every spring, the state of Minnesota--from urban metropolises to remote border towns--is riveted by the spectacle of the boys' high school hockey tournament. Going back to the inaugural competition in 1945, the state tournament has produced incredible drama on and off the ice, featured legendary players, invigorated communities--and showcased some of the best hockey hair the world has ever seen. The tournament draws thousands to St. Paul, and countless more tune in on television screens around the state. In Tourney Time, longtime sports journalists David La Vaque and L. R. Nelson take readers year by year through the tournament, highlighting the key games, the backstories, and the players that made each one shine. Interviews with players, coaches, and fans bring firsthand perspectives and insights to the games and tournaments, while in-depth statistics and results reveal the numbers behind the memories. In addition, the authors share their rankings of the most memorable moments, performances, characters, nicknames, upsets, and more from eighty years of tournament play. Combining archival research, personal recollections, and vivid imagery, Tourney Time offers a detailed and insightful history of the nation's greatest high school sports event and one of Minnesota's most cherished institutions. It is the Stanley Cup, the World Series, and the Super Bowl, all rolled into one. You young men will go on from here and play in many other sports events, but you'll always remember the Minnesota High School Hockey Tournament as the best. -- Herb Brooks
