BASMATI RICE S.CHANDRASEKARAN,2020-02-17 The world is at a turning point due to the reprehensible return of trade protectionism. In the backdrop of the multi-polar world order, the structural adjustment of trade policy is the new mantra in the new normal to suit domestic needs. The book examines the role and importance of natural history and ancient civilisation in shaping the historic reputation in detail to foster fair trade of Geographical Indication (GI) products. Further, it delves in details, the impact of Industry 4.0, a generational shift in view of ideas and thinking, on GI. The future reputation of GI products is scanned in the context of Artificial Intelligence, E-commerce and Social Media. The book extensively evaluates the labelling of cross-bred agricultural varieties as GI Product against the touchstone of Quality and Reputation.The case of Basmati rice is taken while scrutinising each attribute and facet of GI. It explains, why there is a noticeable decline and an inching towards extinction of traditional Basmati rice which morosely marks a breakdown of inter-generational social contract. It also goes into details why Pakistan-grown rice cannot be labeled as Basmati. The book illustrates new directions for protecting GI products and creating additional value in the contemporary era of de-globalization and slowbalization that characterizes the global economy now than ever before in the past.

The Curry Guy Dan Toombs,2017-05-04 Dan Toombs (aka The Curry Guy) has perfected the art of replicating British Indian Restaurant (BIR) cooking after travelling around the UK, sampling dishes, learning the curry house kitchen secrets and refining those recipes at home. In other words, Dan makes homemade curries that taste just like a takeaway from your favourite local but in less time and for less money. Dan has learnt through the comments left on his blog and social media feeds that people are terribly let down when they make a chicken korma or a prawn bhuna from other cookbooks and it taste nothing like the dish they experience when they visit a curry house... but they thank him for getting it right. The Curry Guy shows all BIR food lovers around the world how to make their favourite dishes at home. Each of the classic curry sauces are given, including tikka masala, korma, dopiazza, pasanda, madras, dhansak, rogan josh, vindaloo, karai, jalfrezi, bhuna and keema. Popular vegetable and sides dishes are there as accompaniments, aloo gobi, saag aloo and tarka dhal, plus samosas, pakoras, bhaji, and pickles, chutneys and raitas. Of course, no curry is complete without rice or naan. Dan shows you how to cook perfect pilau rice or soft pillowy naan every time.
