The specific service in my report is McDonald's drive-thru service process. In order to complete the service blueprinting, there must be including that the detailed blueprint thereof, particular attention also to the relationship between internal and external processes and the inputs required to support the processes. The main search methods were combining with primary search and secondary search method. Through my personally taste, I can clearly know what is the general service process then draw a construct a pictures of how the externally-facing processes in McDonald's drive-thru service. The back-stage information is most from my interview with the manager and employee of McDonald's drive-thru restaurant. After look through the literature of McDonald's: behind the arches (John F, 1995), make me know the interrelated information as well as about the McDonald's supplier, partners and hamburgers. Then connect all the useful information, a service of McDonald's drive-thru process was competed. Final part is an analysis of the ways in which services might be improved and how to innovation the service effective are all including in recommendation.

Finding (My)Self (Love) Kim Orlesky,2015-02-20 This is a love story about a woman finding herself and self-love. Sometimes we have to lose everything and do what makes us happy in the moment to realize the most important things in our life and what we really never want to live without. I took my daily blog—all the highs and lows, all the people I met, all the racy moments—and turned it into a book. I hope to inspire people to travel the world, travel solo, and no matter how bad the heartbreak is, things will always get better. Kim currently lives in Calgary, Alberta, Canada. She has a four-year-old Weimaraner dog, who she absolutely adores.

Cleansing Breaths Clystia M. Skinner,2016-07-14 When reading these memories be prepared to laugh, to cry, to get angry, to question your beliefs about family, discipline, human sexuality, parenting, and children in general. Be prepared to have your beliefs about child protective workers challenged.

On the Road and Finding My Way Roger Rivest,2006 This story takes us along for a ride as the author struggles with the changes in his life. We become passengers riding beside him as he embarks on a solitary trip of self-discovery. Going from the east coast to the west, his travels take him from Key West, and Las Vegas, to Santa Monica, Lake Tahoe, Moab, Vail, Santa Fe, and Canada. He is searching for the person he used to be out on the open road, and shares both his search and his findings with the reader.

How to Cope with Unemployment, Find a Job in Any Economy, and Save Money Ronald D. Henderson,2012-04 This book is about three things; 1. It's about the human condition and the devastating effects one experiences or may experience as a result of unemployment, and coping strategies that enable one to maintain some stability while being unemployed. 2. The book offers several different approaches to seeking and obtaining employment for public and private sector jobs. 3. The book shows people how to save money now and in the future on cell phone cost,, household expenses, and energy cost, pharmaceutical expences. The book was written by a person, who has experienced much adversity in his personal life, including being unemployed for thirteen months. This book is the result of personal experiences, seeking higher learning, attending college, job training, seeking employment, and the experiences of many others from various social and economic backgrounds experiencing unemployment and triumphantly landing a job. Controlling spending and saving money were key elements in the process. The author teaches and cares for many people, in the health care setting as a Registered Nurse.

Take Us the Foxes Murphey Rogers,2002-02-14 The perfect food: Everything about eating Big Macs every day was perfect. . I never had to cook. It was fast and ready within minutes after I left work every day. I never had a craving for something different. I had found my perfect food . The stress of having to eat a non-McDonalds meal was over. A promise is a promise: No Big Mac happened on August 13, 1994. . I didn't know it was possible to drive 600 miles and not see a McDonalds. Either I go to Van Horn, TX and find the McDonalds there before they close, or I keep my promise about going to the Observatory in Fort Davis, TX. This was a no-brainer. A promise is a promise. Wouldn't you know, we saw the McDonalds Observatory! My best Big Mac: I bit into my Big Mac and said to Gabe, This is the best Big Mac I ever tasted. Maybe it was because I could actually taste that day compared with most days when I can't. Maybe I was super hungry or overly pumped about the trip. . I will always treasure the taste of Big Mac #17,355 in Kearney, Nebraska. The places I've been: By 1991, I had eaten a Big Mac in all 26 Major League Baseball Stadiums, and by 1994, in all 48 contiguous United States. By 2001 I had eaten a Big Mac at all 22 NASCAR tracks, and by 2003 at all 32 National Football League venues. With all the new stadiums being built, in 2006 I ate a Big Mac at my 49th NFL venue, my 49th Major League Baseball park and at the 46th Major League Baseball park that the Milwaukee Brewers have played in.

Bananadog Brian Newhouse,2008-11-01 (back cover description) In the beginning months of 2006, I rode a $35 bicycle 3200km around New Zealand. I embarked on this adventure for several reasons: I couldn't find a full-time job in my field of education, I wanted to experience a place I'd never been and I wanted to see if I could actually do it. The goal was simple: get from Christchurch to Auckland by bicycle. With that goal in mind for 97 days, the obstacles between A and B became less difficult to overcome. It's easy to make things complicated in life. When I challenged myself to do something very simple, I found that sometimes things are not as complicated as they seem. Or at least they don't have to be.

Wild about Maine Paul Freeman Thibodeau,2014-01-02 Local streams in the Lincoln, Maine, area set the stage for what would become author Paul Freeman Thibodeau's lifelong passion. His father, Paul Francis Thibodeau, taught him the rudiments of fly fishing. Later in life, with increased skills and knowledge, the younger Thibodeau ventured farther afield in Penobscot County in hopes of catching larger salmon, trout, and smallmouth bass. In Wild about Maine, he shares tales that paint an image of the outdoorsmen, the breathtaking landscape with Mount Katahdin in the background, and the challenges of fishing in the pristine waters of the Penobscot River. This collection of stories includes anecdotes about the interaction between fishermen, the prolific fish, and the area's abundant wildlife. In "The Taking of Vinegar Hill," Thibodeau tells of searching for a secret trout pond with an old friend. "The Never-Ending Mouse Tale" narrates a lighthearted story of sharing one's home with an unwanted furry critter. Inspiring, educational, and entertaining, Wild about Maine provides a look at modern-day "Mainers," the state's wild creatures, and the wilderness they share.

MODERN ARCHERY FOR LIFE (REVISED) Jake Veit,2023-11-27 It was the spring of 1951 when Jake Veit’s father, an avid outdoorsman, decided he wanted to learn to bowhunt. As Jake picked up his father’s enthusiasm for archery, he began shooting in tournaments and bowhunting small game, and ultimately helped his father found an archery club. While intertwining his entertaining personal experiences while growing up in Ohio and beyond with insight into the ancient sport of archery and accompanying images, Veit provides a fascinating glimpse into all the ways involvement in archery can positively effect its participants. As he leads others through his experiences and the history of a sport that has helped man survive over time, Veit details his tournament experiences, the mental and physical control that he and others had to refine to be successful, how to properly execute a shot sequence and other techniques, and much more. Throughout his presentation, Veit reminds us that archery is a life sport that provides exercise and fun while demonstrating that no one has to win to feel accomplished. Modern Archery for Life shares personal experiences, insight, and images that shine an intriguing light onto an ancient sport that can be enjoyed by all ages.

Done In Disbelief: Transforming "Manic Depression" Into Creative Energy Steven Valentine,2011-12 In Done In Disbelief: Transforming Manic Depression Into Creative Power, Mr. Valentine recounts how he found a way to recovery from his mental disorder. In order to really heal and be the man and writer I knew I could be, I had to find my own way. For years, Mr. Valentine struggled with mania and depression. His disorder affected his life as well as his family in more ways than one. In this book, Mr. Valentine shares how writing became the much needed channel for him to deal with his condition in the open. Done In Disbelief will appeal to anyone interested in learning how to cope with manic depression without pharmaceuticals and therapy.

Amplifying Black Undocumented Student Voices in Higher Education Felecia S. Russell,2024-04-15 This book centers a qualitative study exploring the experiences of 15 Black undocumented students and the author’s own experiences as a Black DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals) recipient, highlighting the invisibility and lack of belonging Black undocumented students face in the undocumented community and the United States at large. Access and success within higher education for undocumented students cannot be achieved unless those implementing policies understand the full context of the community. Through both an interpretative phenomenological approach and biographical memoir, this volume makes meaning of the experiences of undocuBlack students, a group who do not often see themselves being represented in the immigrant narrative. It argues that without visibility, undocuBlack students are rarely the beneficiaries of advocacy and become targets of overcriminalization. The stories told here examine the intersection of race and identity in determining positioning within society, with the goal of contributing awareness and promoting more inclusive practices among higher education communities. This text offers an important new perspective for faculty and administrators, policymakers, upper-level undergraduate and graduate students, as well as general readers with an interest in Black and immigrant narratives and the undocumented experience as an academic subject.

Tremors – Travel Adventures in Post Earthquake Japan Paul Broadhead,2017-03-09 The day before Paul Broadhead was due to travel to Japan for the first time, an earthquake and tsunami rocked the North East coast of the country, killing thousands and leaving a trail of destruction in its wake. Undeterred, he flew out for a three week trip through a country coming to terms with devastating loss. Tremors is a personal account – sometimes funny, occasionally sad, but always eye-opening – of a gaijin in Japan, at a time when nothing is certain and everything is subject to change..

Webster Groves Robert Joseph O’Guillory,2009-06-09 Webster Groves, a suburb on the outskirts of St. Louis, Missouri seemed like a great place to live in the 1960s. Awash in postcard-perfect homes and tree-lined streets, the residents must be happy, right? But that's not the case for Bobby, who first tries running away from home at age five, only to realize that he has no choice but to endure brutal beatings from his father and mother. Even then, he knows that his parents are psychopaths and that his only hope for a normal life is to escape. It's not until Bobby is in his mid-thirties, shopping for the best gun to commit suicide that he realizes that he has problems, and they don't stop at the tumor growing in his groin or his recent divorce. They go straight back to his childhood. Join Bobby as he deals with problems shared by many baby boomers and children of suburbia. If he's strong, or just crazy enough, he may just be able to get past the darkest memories from Webster Groves.

I'm Blessed and I Did Not Know Why Rudolph Michaille Bowers,2023-02-09 My father's alcohol addiction and the resulting negative behaviors forced me to grow up sooner than expected. I never felt loved as a child, and as I got older, that feeling never left me. As I started my journey of finding love, I kept failing because I was searching in all the wrong places. I asked God to send me that special someone to love. While still searching, God answered my prayers, but I wasn't ready. After a near fatal accident, I questioned why my life was spared. God gave me the clarity to understand that a change was needed in my life. I realized that God wanted me to endure some pain and suffering in order for me to become a better person. I now know that God's blessings have always been upon me, and I am just beginning to understand why. About the Author Rudolph M. Bowers grew up in Chapin, SC, a small but growing town located a few miles outside of Columbia. The upbringing was tough, but he learned quickly how to survive and take care of his family. His mother taught him to be a leader, and he learned many life-lessons from his father. He is utilizing his leadership skills and those life lessons to enrich the lives of others. He believes that God places people in his life for a reason. As such he is currently working on a non-profit foundation that will help mentor young people in hopes of helping them to develop into independent and productive adults. Additionally, Rudolph is passionate about his family and enjoys spending time with his children and granddaughter.
