GPS Tracking with Java EE Components Kristof Beiglböck,2018-08-06 GPS Tracking with Java EE Components: Challenges of Connected Cars highlights how the self-driving car is actually changing the automotive industry, from programing embedded software to hosting services and data crunching, in real time, with really big data. The book analyzes how the challenges of the Self Driving Car (SDC) exceed the limits of a classical GPS Tracking System (GTS.) It provides a guidebook on setting up a tracking system by customizing its components. It also provides an overview of the prototyping and modeling process, and how the reader can modify this process for his or her own software. Every component is introduced in detail and includes a number of design decisions for development. The book introduces Java EE (JEE) Modules, and shows how they can be combined to a customizable GTS, and used as seed components to enrich existing systems with live tracking. The book also explores how to merge tracking and mapping to guide SDCs, and focuses on client server programming to provide useful information. It also discusses the challenges involved with the live coordination of moving cars. This book is designed to aid GTS developers and engineers in the automotive industry. It can also help Java Developers, not only interested in GPS Tracking, but in modern software design from many individual modules. Source code and sample applications will be available on the book's website.

Building a Dedicated GSM GPS Module Tracking System for Fleet Management Franjieh El Khoury,Antoine Zgheib,2018-01-31 This book shows how to build a INFelecPHY GPS Unit (IEP-GPS) tracking system for fleet management that is based on 3G and GPRS modules. This model should provide reliability since it deals with several protocols: 1) HTTP and HTTPS to navigate, download and upload in real time the information to a web server, 2) FTTP and FTTPS to handle in a non-real time the files to the web application, and 3) SMTP and POP3 to send and receive email directly from the unit in case of any alert. Similar to a mobile device, but without screen for display, it is multifunctional because it links to a GPRS module, a camera, a speaker, headphone, a keypad and screen.

Smart-Puter Base GPS Tracker Using Areal Device Naveen Kolla,2012-04 We have designed 'GPS based Automated Guided Vehicle which flies to any required place if we know the latitude and longitude of that particular location.This project concludes that it's an economical and effective way to reach an unknown location. Now in our project we completed up to the point of interfacing with micro-controller i.e., we have designed sensor circuits.In the future the system will be implemented to find the location of different vehicle, if they met with any crashes. Also it can be used in the enabling technologies, such as scheduling and routing.Automated guided vehicles (AGVs) are becoming popular in automatic materials handling systems, flexible manufacturing systems and even container-handling applications.

Pioneering Technologies for Mountaineers. Developing an IoT-based Health and GPS Tracking System Bandar Hezam,2023-09-14 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2023 in the subject Sport - Sports Equipment and Supplies, grade: B+, , course: Mechatronics, language: English, abstract: In the contemporary realm of adventure sports, the safety of mountaineers takes center stage. This study aims to forge an IoT-based solution capable of real-time monitoring of not only the location but the health of mountaineers, thereby minimizing potential risks and facilitating rapid response in emergencies. The summary offers a detailed overview of the various chapters and sections integral to this pivotal research. The introduction highlights the prominence of mountaineering as a global sport and delineates the challenges and risks associated with it. It emphasizes the imperative for a reliable health monitoring system that withstands physical constraints while being lightweight and wearable. Chapter one delves deeply into the problem statement and the study's objective, focusing particularly on creating a wearable device that monitors the health and location of mountaineers in real time. Chapter two furnishes a comprehensive review of the existing literature, particularly focusing on the diverse technologies and systems presently utilized for health monitoring and navigation. In chapter three, the concept development and research methodology are detailed extensively. Here, the various phases of the project, including material and software selection, as well as the proposed methodology, are discussed. The document concludes with an extensive repository of references and an appendix that includes a literature review matrix.

Spatial Database for GPS Wildlife Tracking Data Ferdinando Urbano,Francesca Cagnacci,2014-03-12 This book guides animal ecologists, biologists and wildlife and data managers through a step-by-step procedure to build their own advanced software platforms to manage and process wildlife tracking data. This unique, problem-solving-oriented guide focuses on how to extract the most from GPS animal tracking data, while preventing error propagation and optimizing analysis performance. Based on the open source PostgreSQL/PostGIS spatial database, the software platform will allow researchers and managers to integrate and harmonize GPS tracking data together with animal characteristics, environmental data sets, including remote sensing image time series, and other bio-logged data, such as acceleration data. Moreover, the book shows how the powerful R statistical environment can be integrated into the software platform, either connecting the database with R, or embedding the same tools in the database through the PostgreSQL extension Pl/R. The client/server architecture allows users to remotely connect a number of software applications that can be used as a database front end, including GIS software and WebGIS. Each chapter offers a real-world data management and processing problem that is discussed in its biological context; solutions are proposed and exemplified through ad hoc SQL code, progressively exploring the potential of spatial database functions applied to the respective wildlife tracking case. Finally, wildlife tracking management issues are discussed in the increasingly widespread framework of collaborative science and data sharing. GPS animal telemetry data from a real study, freely available online, are used to demonstrate the proposed examples. This book is also suitable for undergraduate and graduate students, if accompanied by the basics of databases.
