Dieter F. Uchtdorf

Teachings of Presidents of the Church: Brigham Young The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, 2000 The prophet Brigham Young taught the restored gospel of Jesus Christ in a basic, practical way that gave inspiration and hope to the Saints struggling to build a home in the wilderness. Though more than a century has now passed, his words are still fresh and appropriate for us today as we continue the work of building the kingdom of God. President Young declared that as members of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints we possess the “doctrine of life and salvation for all the honest-in-heart” (DBY, 7). He promised that those who receive the gospel in their hearts will have awakened “within them a desire to know and understand the things of God more than they ever did before in their lives” and will begin to “inquire, read and search and when they go to their Father in the name of Jesus he will not leave them without a witness” (DBY, 450). This book reflects the desire of the First Presidency and the Quorum of the Twelve Apostles to deepen the doctrinal understanding of Church members and to awaken within them a greater desire to know the things of God. It will inspire and motivate individuals, priesthood quorums, and Relief Society classes to inquire, read, search, and then go to their Father in Heaven for a witness of the truth of these teachings. Each chapter contains two sections—“Teachings of Brigham Young” and “Suggestions for Study.” The first section consists of extracts from Brigham Young’s sermons to the early Saints. Each statement has been referenced, and the original spelling and punctuation have been preserved; however, the sources cited will not be readily available to most members. These original sources are not necessary to have in order to effectively study or teach from this book. Members need not purchase additional references and commentaries to study or teach these chapters. The text provided in this book, accompanied by the scriptures, is sufficient for instruction. Members should prayerfully read and study President Young’s teachings in order to gain new insights into gospel principles and discover how those principles apply to their everyday lives. By faithfully and prayerfully studying these selections, Latter-day Saints will have a greater understanding of gospel principles and will more fully appreciate the profound and inspired teachings of this great prophet. The second section of each chapter offers a series of questions that will encourage thoughtful contemplation, personal application, and discussion of President Young’s teachings. Members should refer to and carefully reread his words on the principle being discussed. Deep and prayerful study of these teachings will inspire members to greater personal commitment and will help them resolve to follow the teachings of the Savior, Jesus Christ. If individuals and families prayerfully follow the principles in this book, they will be blessed and inspired to greater dedication and spirituality, as were the early Saints who heard these words directly from the lips of the “Lion of the Lord” (HC, 7:434)—the prophet, seer, and revelator, President Brigham Young.

Daughters in My Kingdom The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, In the first meeting of the Relief Society, Sister Emma Smith said, “We are going to do something extraordinary.” She was right. The history of Relief Society is filled with examples of ordinary women who have accomplished extraordinary things as they have exercised faith in Heavenly Father and Jesus Christ. Relief Society was established to help prepare daughters of God for the blessings of eternal life. The purposes of Relief Society are to increase faith and personal righteousness, strengthen families and homes, and provide relief by seeking out and helping those in need. Women fulfill these purposes as they seek, receive, and act on personal revelation in their callings and in their personal lives. This book is not a chronological history, nor is it an attempt to provide a comprehensive view of all that the Relief Society has accomplished. Instead, it provides a historical view of the grand scope of the work of the Relief Society. Through historical accounts, personal experiences, scriptures, and words of latter-day prophets and Relief Society leaders, this book teaches about the responsibilities and opportunities Latter-day Saint women are given in Heavenly Father’s plan of happiness.

If Thou Endure It Well Neal A. Maxwell, 1996-01-01

General Conference Journal: 8.5x11 184 Pages Journal/Notebook Joy Bountiful,2019-03-09 General Conference Study Journal 8.5x11 inches (21.59x27.94 cm) bound notebook 184 pages Each notebook has space for two General Conferences Matte cover features a grey pattern of squares in abstract style General Conference is a chance every six months where we hear from the First Presidency and Apostles, General Relief Society, Primary, and Young Women's presidencies, and other general authorities. It's not merely a time to listen to talks and hear stories from leaders of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, but a time to seek and receive personal revelation. This study notebook is designed for two conferences worth of study. Each half of the book begins with a Table of Contents where you can build your own index of the speakers and topics and the page number your notes appear on. My Questions for Conference is a space to write down the questions and topics you are pondering. As you hear answers return and record them, along with a reference to talk and where to find further notes. There is also a Conference Stats and Announcements page to record the announced church membership, newly announced temples, and other items of interest. The study pages for each talk give two pages of space to take notes on each talk. While it's not practical to take two pages of notes about each talk as you hear it, in the months following conference you can return to these pages to add new notes as you study the conference talks in your personal gospel study time. There are also four pages for overflow notes after each conference's note pages. Writing notes by hand may seem old fashioned. Our world is increasingly digital and information is available in the palm of our hand at any time. The satisfaction and deep memories that come from recording notes by hand, whether they are traditional notes, doodles, sketches, or illuminated quotes, gives you a strong connection to what you have recorded. What better way to study the teaching of our living prophet and the other leaders of the Church of Jesus Christ than by forging deep connections to them through our own writing! Notebooks and journals of your gospel study also become an important part of your family history that children, grandchildren, and future generations can read and treasure for both the gospel insights they provide, but also the connection to you and your thoughts. We hope this General Conference Study Journal will bring you closer to the Savior and His servants during and after conference.
