The Muslims of Valencia in the Age of Fernando and Isabel Mark D.
Meyerson, 2023-11-10 The kingdom of Valencia was home to Christian Spain's largest Muslim population during the reign of the Catholic Monarchs, Fernando and Isabel. How did Muslim-Christian coexistence in Valencia remain relatively stable in this volatile period that saw the establishment of the Spanish Inquisition, the Expulsion of the Jews, the conquest of Granada, and the conversion of the Muslims of Granada and Castile? In explanation, Mark Meyerson achieves the first thorough analysis of Fernando and Isabel's policy toward both Muslims and Jews. His findings will stimulate much discussion among Hispanists, Arabists, and historians. Meyerson argues that the key to the persistence of Muslim-Christian coexistence in Valencia lies in the hitherto unexamined differences between the royal couple concerning matters of religion. More than a study of the minority policy of the Catholic Monarchs, however, The Muslims of Valencia is an exemplary analysis of the economic life of Valencia's Muslims and the complex institutional and social network that held them suspended between coexistence and crusade. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1991.

Aks Shagufta Qureshi, 2023-10-03 What is a wrinkle but a story of love?
Moments gone away. Some of romance, some of longing. See the glimpse of my past in the glistening of my eyes. Songs of color and sound, autumn and spring, flavors of romance. God has gifted my greatest desires. But by the side of my desires follows my dreads. Shagufta Qureshi is an introspective and inspirational poet who enjoys writing about humanity, social justice, love, faith, sacrifice, loss, grief, and motherhood, inspired by the spiritual style known as Sufiana Kalam. In her second collection of poems shared in Urdu and Punjabi with English translations, Qureshi explores such complex themes as tragedy, loss, and love while lyrically telling touching stories of longing, grief, and isolation. Her reflections touch on the quiet moments that lead to redemption, forgotten friendships, the knowledge that illuminates life, a thousand unopened wishes of the heart, a determined search for the one, and much more. Aks: Reflections is a beautiful volume of multi-language poetry that shares insight into one woman's experiences, challenges, and emotions.

Middle Mongolian Loan Words in Volga Kipchak Languages Éva Csáki, 2006 The book deals with Mongolian loanwords in the Kipchak Turkic languages Tatar and Bashkir of the Volga area. After the sudden rise of the Chingisid Empire, Middle Mongolian exerted a vehement influence on the languages spoken in the subdued territories. This was the case even in the north-western most part of the empire. Tatar and Bashkir borrowed numerous Middle Mongolian words that reflect the culture of the Mongols of that age. In the following centuries, this vocabulary underwent significant changes in phonetics, morphology, semantics, and stylistic values. Middle Mongolian is reflected differently even in the languages of the so-called Altaic family. The author examines changes on both the Mongolian and the Kipchak side. The material provides valuable data that document important processes of the language history of the region. The book tries to capture characteristic elements of a language contact that has resulted in a variety of substantial loans belonging to many different semantic layers.
