Elder Care Journey Laura Katz Olson,2016-04-21 Combining expert knowledge and first-hand experience, a noted elder care researcher confronts the long-distance care of her own mother. Winner of a Gold Medal, 2017 Living Now Book Award in the Caregiving category Shortlisted for the 2016 Sarton Women's Book Awards in the Memoir category presented by the Story Circle Network For millions of Americans caregiving is the "new normal." For Laura Katz Olson, a respected researcher of long-term care for the aging, Elder Care Journey chronicles the disruption of her world and how it is upended by the ever-increasing long-distance needs of her own mother. A healthy, Senior Olympics medal winner, Olson's mother is slowly and steadily incapacitated by Parkinson's disease and a gradual loss of vision. Thrust into a long-distance caregiving role, Olson finds her previous academic notions about assisting a frail parent increasingly at odds with the reality of the lived experience. In a narrative full of "ah-ha!" moments, tears, sighs, and outrage that will be familiar to many, Olson opens a window into the nursing home and home care industries that consume much in the way of taxpayer dollars, but often fail to deliver quality care. Olson's personal story vividly demonstrates not only the overwhelming bureaucratic barriers faced by care-dependent seniors but also their beleaguered adult children's attempts to ensure their parents' health, safety, and well-being. Laura Katz Olson is Professor of Political Science at Lehigh University and the author and editor of many books, including The Politics of Medicaid and The Not-So-Golden Years: Caregiving, the Frail Elderly, and the Long-Term Care Establishment. She lives in Wind Gap, Pennsylvania.

Elder Care Thomas M. Cassidy,2004 In this updated, revised look at the problems posed by a growing older population in need of special care, Tom Cassidy zeroes in on a worsening scenario in our society showing the potential for elder fraud and abuse rising dramatically. He notes that with the myriad repairmen, home health workers and salespeople who may have unsupervised access to the homes of the elderly, along with telemarketers and junk mail senders making sham offers, the opportunities for abuse of our elderly are huge. Tom Cassidy battled crimes against the elderly for twenty years as senior investigator with the New York State Attorney General's Medicaid Fraud Control Unit. Using actual case examples and the advice of professionals in medicine, law and finance, he examines crises in nursing homes, home care and assisted living arrangements; how to help the elderly understand and protect their rights; how to find safe living arrangements for the infirm; how to protect the vulnerable from victimization. Included is an updated, extensive,list of national, state and Internet resources available for those who must make crucial elder care decisions.

Eldercare is concerned with every aspect of the aging process, including the importance of family support and role reversal when the adult child takes on the responsibility of making the choices for an aging parent. Blending professional expertise and personal experience, the authors discuss not only the challenges confronting the aged and those who care for them, but also the opportunities for family growth and personal fulfillment.
