Hungarian Borderlands Frank N.

Schubert,2011-10-20 An in-depth examination of border decomposition, re-creation and destruction in 20th-century Hungary.

China in Central Europe Pleschová,

Gabriela,2022-08-16 This book explores China's policy towards the European Union, using the case study of four member states from Central Europe: Poland, the Czech Republic, Hungary and Slovakia. Gabriela Pleschová documents China's strategic approach to engaging with these countries bilaterally and multilaterally, through intensified diplomatic and soft-power campaigns, upgrading them to strategic partners, offering loans and promising investments.

Global Media Giants Benjamin Birkinbine,Rodrigo

Gomez,Janet Wasko,2016-07-01 Global Media Giants takes an in-depth look at how media corporate power works globally, regionally, and nationally, investigating the ways in which the largest and most powerful media corporations in the world wield power. Case studies examine not only some of the largest media corporations (News Corp., The Microsoft Corporation) in terms of revenues, but also media corporations that hold considerable power within national, regional, or geolinguistic contexts (Televisa, The Bertelsmann Group, Sony Corporation). Each chapter approaches a different corporation through the lens of economy, politics, and culture, giving students and scholars a thoughtful and data-driven guide with which to interrogate contemporary media industry power.

SME Competitiveness Outlook 2017 International Trade Centre, 2017-11-10 This year's report focuses on regional trade, the most common form of trade for small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs). It contains 50 country profiles, featuring detailed SME competitiveness assessments and information on each country's export potential within and outside their geographical region. Success stories of value chain integration are provided for Ghana, Hungary, Indonesia, Kenya and Morocco. The report provides targeted advice for policymakers, businesses, and trade and investment support institutions, and combines data analysis, case studies, academic insights and opinions by thought leaders.

Public Private Partnership in European Road Infrastructure Lukas Strauch, 2009 Public private partnerships (PPPs) have become a viable and innovative scheme for developing infrastructure assets throughout the world in recent years. After PPPs being implemented predominantly in Western European regions, at present project sponsors, banks, investors, insurances and governments start tapping the growing Eastern European region with this promising scheme for infrastructure development. The potential for road infrastructure investments is enormous. How does the PPP scheme work? How are PPPs structured in road projects and which risks can be shared? What is the market potential in figures? What makes road as asset class special and which investment opportunities arise? For answering these questions the author Lukas Strauch leads the reader from explanatory theory over analysis of facts and figures towards praxis and implementation. The author analyses the M6 motorway project in Hungary as a state of the art PPP road project in Eastern European transition countries. The book targets people interested in project finance and infrastructure topics, students of business studies and professionals in infrastructure related business across private and public sectors.

Escape to Budapest Peter Cooper, 2021-04-20 Why not plan your own escape to Budapest? Budapest is still a relatively undiscovered gem. The Hungarian capital is listed as the second most beautiful city in the world. Hungary's economy has been the fastest growing in Europe for the past five years. Budapest is also a more affordable destination than most with plenty to see and do. It also lacked a single travel book until now. You can also move there, like the author and his wife. It's all in this book. How to renovate an apartment. Make new friends. Hidden places to visit. Cultural highlights. The story of Budapest coffeehouses. The Grand Hotels of Budapest. Great restaurants. Why the city is booming. How to become a part of it. From handling eccentric neighbours to controlling a renovation project by email, and exploring the complex history of this city - two lost world wars, two communist revolutions, the Holocaust, the Battle of Budapest, Hungarian Uprising and Prime Minister Orban's reformist government - there is so much to learn. This is where Emperor Marcus Aurelius defended the Roman Empire from the barbarian hordes. Where Mongol tribes - whose bizarre language is still more difficult to learn than Japanese - first pitched their tents a thousand years ago. The story involves quite a few crossovers with Oxford University where the author studied, and economic and political insights into modern Hungary, a magnet for non-EU immigration, rather contrary to its misleading reputation. Budapest is full of surprises. Read about them here.
